Comedy Continues In Senate as Filibusterers Hold Floor

KING TUT-ANKH-AMEN SUBJECT OF SPEECH

President and G. O. P. Chiefs Refuse to Withdraw Measure

(By United Press Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—"All deals are off; the fight will go on indefinitely."

With this announcement, Senator Jones, Washington, today prepared as the senate met at 11 o'clock to continue holding out against the Democratic filibuster against the administration's ship subsidy bill.

Neither President Harding nor an administration leader in the senate has the slightest intention of surrendering to the filibusterers or of withdrawing the bill, Jones said.

It was revealed that Senator Smoot of Utah had blocked an agreement which was about to be consummated with the filibusterers under which the senate would have voted at noon today on the motion to substitute the filled milk bill for the subsidy.

Though administration forces felt they had the votes to beat the filibuster, Smoot said he would object to an agreement that conceded anything to the foes of the subsidy.

Reed in Long Speech

Senator Reed of Missouri resumed the filibuster by continuing his long speech on the plan of buying the West Indies. Senators Moses and Smoot asked him to yield to them so they could put in reports. Senator Hitchcock, captain of the filibusterers, said he would object to tie the senate up so tightly that it could not transact business of any kind.

About 11:30 a. m., Reed, to rest his voice, got the senate clerk to read long documents for him. The chamber was deserted by this time except for the men "on guard" on both sides.

Fear Possible Arrest

"How much longer?" senators began asking Jones today.

"Forever," he replied.

Senators in vain complained to him that social engagements were endangered by the long night sessions. A senator going out to dinner or some other mild Lenten diversion, might find himself arrested by the sergeant-at-arms and hauled into the senate chamber, they pointed out.

The comedy side of the situation continued upmost today in the minds of most senators. Senator Carter Glass, passing a group during the filibuster, said in a loud undertone:

"I insist that Noah's Ark does not need a subsidy."

This was apropos of some one's threat to read the Bible into the record.

Speaker Demands Order

Senator Harrison got a group of senators laughing at one of his best stories and gravely addressing the chair, demanded order in the senate.

Reed concluded at 2:15 p. m. after having spoken nearly three hours today.

Senator Borah of Idaho then took the floor.

Borah, in beginning his speech, made the first reference to the subsidy bill which has been heard since the active filibuster began.

"Those who are interested in this subsidy bill," said Borah, doubtless also have considered the question of getting cargoes for the ships they want a subsidy for. I am more interested in cargoes and broadening of markets for America than I am in a subsidy."

He then launched into a speech criticizing the allies and the United States government for their Russian policies. The United States, he said, ought to have economic and commercial relations with Russia for the good of American farmers and manufacturers.

Daring Army Airmen To Seek Record for Continuous Flight

Lieutenant John A. MacReady (left) and Lieutenant Oakley Kelly (right) are going to attempt an endurance record flight at Dayton, Ohio, February 25 in the T-2 (shown above). Several months ago this pair of daring aviators attempted a non-stop flight from San Diego to New York but were forced to land at Indianapolis due to trouble with a gasoline feed line.

2 TOTS DIE WHEN BLAZE RAZES HOME

Mother Returns from Short Absence to See Flames Take Lives of Children.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—While Mrs. Gutzke took her five year old girl, Rosalie, to kindergarten this morning, her home caught fire, and her two younger children, Bobbie, 3, and George, 16 months, were burned to death.

A passing autoist saw the flames licking the roof of the house, and called the fire department. As Mrs. Dalyke approached her house on her return she saw the fire department engines dash up.

She was frantic and attempted to break away from firemen who held her and rush into the house to save the children.

By the time the seething mass of flames was extinguished and firemen were able to enter, the two children were burned to death.

DEATH CALLS S. A. PIONEER. F. O. DANIEL

Marking the close of a long and useful career, Fabius O. Daniel, 71, a native of Mississippi but for the past thirty-six years a resident of Santa Ana, died yesterday at the home of his son, in Los Angeles, it was learned here today.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m., from the chapel of E. E. Overholzer-Sons company, 1236 South Grand avenue. Interment will be made in Rosedale cemetery, Los Angeles.

Popularly known as "Judge," Mr. Daniel was actively engaged in the practice of law here for many years.

Office in Bank Building

His office in the First National bank building was the meeting place for some of the best legal minds in Southern California.

Although he had been in failing health for many months, Mr. Daniel maintained his home at 615 North Ross street, this city, until last December.

At that time, he suffered an apoplectic attack, and it was deemed best to remove him to Los Angeles, where he would be assured of the constant and loving attention of the members of his family. Since December 15 he had been cared for in the home of his son, Dr. William H. Daniel, 1853 West Adams street, Los Angeles.

Little improvement was noted, however, and he gradually sank, until the end came, at 11 a. m. yesterday. He had been virtually unconscious for the past three days.

Widely Known in County

A worker in the Presbyterian church and an active member of the Santa Ana lodge of Elks, Mr. Daniel was widely known in Santa Ana and throughout Orange County. He was a picturesque figure in the courts of the county.

He is survived by his widow, Allie A. Daniel; a daughter, Mrs. Geraldine Williams, of Yuba City, and three sons, Dr. William H. Daniel, Los Angeles; Lee A. Daniel, of Northern California, and Orin Daniel, of Yuba City.

LONG TERM IN INSANE WARD AGES THAW

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 21.—The great iron gates of the Pennsylvania hospital for the insane swung open today and a white haired, stooped, sallow faced man rode out in a closed automobile for a temporary "vacation."

It was Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White and former husband of Evelyn Nesbit, who has been granted liberty for ten days so that he may visit his aged mother, Mrs. Mary Copely Thaw, in Pittsburgh.

Few persons today would recognize the man who was committed to the asylum six years ago. In 1917 Thaw was as straight as an arrow, his hair was coal black and he walked with a springy step.

Today as he left the hospital, accompanied by his guard who is responsible for his safe return before March 3, his step was springy but because of elation over his temporary liberty. His general appearance is vastly changed.

Thaw's complexion is a sickly yellow-white, almost a prison pallor. His shoulders are bent and he has aged rapidly. He looked nearer 70 years old today than 52.

Thaw manifested eagerness to leave the asylum. His only concern was relative to the care of his pets while he was away. He has raised pigeons and the birds fly toward him whenever he approaches and sit on his head, shoulders and arms.

IRISH REBELS OPEN NEW DUBLIN BATTLE

DUBLIN, Feb. 21.—Fighting between Free State troops and insurgents broke out here suddenly today and raged for more than half an hour over a wide area.

Two insurgents were killed and three persons wounded.

Volleys were exchanged and several of the attackers fell. Several non-combatants were shot.

DUBLIN, Feb. 21.—Eamonn de Valera, rebel leader, today proclaimed boycott on English goods, forbidding his followers to buy or sell them.

HOLD DRY AGENTS FOR BRIBERY WILL CHOOSE MARKED CASH CHIEFS FOR S. A. CLUB IN PLOT

Name Committee at Meet to Nominate Officers for Boost Organization

(By United Press Leased Wire)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—S. T. Burch and J. H. Miller, prohibition agents, were arrested today by Prohibition Chiefs H. D. Holley and C. H. Wheeler, after they had watched through holes in the wall of Rabbi Jacob Tovli's house, and had, they charged, seen the two subordinate agents take $350 from the rabbi for "squaring" alleged irregularities in his sacramental wine supply.

The money was marked, Dolley declared. The pair were arrested and charged with extortion and accepting bribes and held on $10,000 bail each.

The rabbi declared that the two agents had inspected his wine supply and had found a minor discrepancy. They said they would return. The matter was reported to prohibition headquarters, and Dolley and Wheeler kept watch, boring holes through the wall. When the agents entered, they said, according to Dolley:

"How much money have you got?"

The rabbi replied he had $200. "We'll have to have $350 at least," Dolley alleged they said. The rabbi produced $350. The agents, he said, then told the rabbi how he could beat the prohibition regulations by selling wine and charging it to a member of his congregation. The agents were arrested when they left the house. In addition to the $350, Burch had $1,070 in his pockets and Miller had about $500, Dolley said.

BERT WEST IS CITY COUNSEL CANDIDATE

Santa Ana's political pot, which has been quietly simmering for the past few weeks, began boiling merrily today.

Z. B. West Jr., popularly known as "Bert," and son of Judge Z. B. West of the superior bench, was the first to hurl his sombrero into the political arena.

Heeding the earnest solicitation of numerous friends, this popular young attorney announced his candidacy for the office of city attorney.

West, who won high honors at Santa Ana high school and carried off debating prizes with ease, was always in the forefront in athletic pursuits and proved himself a football star of the first magnitude.

Continuing his studies at Stanford, he graduated with honors in January, 1921, and has built up an excellent practice in Santa Ana.

West, despite the fact that he has always been of a studious disposition, has managed to find time to take a lively interest in clean sports of every description. At Stanford he was prominently identified with the football team of that institution and figured conspicuously in numerous track meets. He is regarded as one of the most progressive young attorneys in the Southland.

"30" BULLETIN

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 21.—Armed guards were in evidence about the box office of the San Bernardino National Orange Show today as a result of the alleged thwarting of an organized bandit gang in its plans to raid the gates.

Sheriff Shay obtained information from recently jailed prisoners that they knew of a plan under way to raid the box office.

Confession of Slayer Releases Man Sent To Prison for Life

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 21.—Clarence Leroy McKinney stood on the threshold of freedom today after serving five months of a life sentence for a murder he did not commit.

"I've always had a feeling I would get out," McKinney said when informed that Louis Vandervoort, Jamestown, had confessed to the crime for which McKinney was held, the slaying of Special Officer Emory McCreight at Wilmington, February 14, 1922.

McKinney bears no hard feeling against those who sent him to prison.

URGE G. O. P. FLOOR CHIEF FOR CABINET

Western Solons Recommend Mondell, Wyoming, for Interior Department Post.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—A delegation of eighteen members of the house, representing thirteen western and northwestern states, called at the White House today and urged President Harding to appoint Representative Frank W. Mondell, Republican floor leader of Wyoming to the post of secretary of interior, succeeding Secretary Fall.

The delegation urged that Dr. Hubert Work, postmaster general, be allowed to retain his present post in preference to transferring him to the interior department on the ground that he is thoroughly acquainted with his position and is handling it efficiently. They told the president that Mondell is adequately fitted for the interior post.

The states represented in the delegation were: South and North Dakota, Oregon, Michigan, Idaho, Utah, Montana, Washington, Illinois, California, Nebraska, Minnesota, and Iowa.

INQUIRY LINKS REMINGTON TO BOOZE RING

(By United Press Leased Wire)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—"Earle Remington was one of the principal figures in a big bootleg ring," according to one of the principal detective captains investigating the murder, who divulged the startling information this afternoon.

"It seems certain his death was due to the machinations of this ring and its members," the detective captain added.

The official declared he had located and would bring to police headquarters one hundred gallons of whiskey which was in Remington's possession at the time of his death.

Information regarding the alleged bootlegging activities was elicited from Mrs. Virginia Remington, who, the police said, had told them she knew of her husband's activities in the liquor ring for some time.

Remington suffered severe financial reverses some months ago, but since then had recuperated financially to a great extent, due, his friends believed, to fortunate investments.

Police this afternoon took possession of a quantity of papers belonging to Remington and in these, they said, were handbooks showing a high class clientele among well known Los Angeles people.

Police declared they know other members of the alleged ring, and that arrests will be made.

The information came like a bolt out of a clear sky, as it had not been surmised previously that the dead man was involved in the alleged plan to sell huge amounts of liquor.

The liquor has been cached in the basement of Remington's house, it was learned today.

For two days, in co-operation with the prohibition office, local detectives have been running down this clue. The prohibition office said they have had Remington under suspicion for over a month, but had never been able to obtain any concrete evidence on him.

The man who operated a large still for Remington is known to them, detectives said, and is being sought.

HUGE RING BARED BY RAIDERS

$100,000.00 In Spurious Bank Notes and Imitation Coins Seized

28 SUSPECTS ARE TAKEN IN ROUNDUP

"Bottled In Bond" Whisky Labels and Fake Austrian Money Found

(By United Press Leased Wire)

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—A gigantic counterfeiting corporation with "manufacturers," "wholesalers" and "retailers," of false bank notes was bared this afternoon following arrest of twenty-eight alleged members of the gang.

Capture of the alleged counterfeiters today brings the total under arrest to sixty-four and marks the partial culmination of a chase that has led federal agent Joe Palma and his operatives to all parts of the world since August 22, 1922.

Notes broadcast by the gang which was rounded up last night and today found their way to Europe, Cuba and the Bahamas. They were circulated abroad by bootleggers and smugglers of narcotics who had been themselves victimized by the counterfeiters.

Approximately 150 members of counterfeiting rings were marked for arrest. Raids are still in progress.

When the agents broke into the "money factory" of the gang in Brooklyn during the night, a rough and tumble fight ensued. Shots were fired. Several of the prisoners at the customs house bore marks of the struggle.

Another "money factory" was raided in Long Island City.

The gang circulated chiefly $10 and $20 bills, the latter being poor counterfeits of notes of the National City Bank of Grand Rapids. The manner in which the "phony" money was circulated, was described this afternoon by Palma.

Sleuth Bars Plan

The counterfeiters, the federal agent said, divided their activities into five groups—manufacturers, wholesalers, wholesale agents, retailers and retail salesmen. Wholesale agents took the "queer" money from the presses, distributed it in large lots to retailers throughout the country. Thousands of dollars found their way down the New Jersey coast where rum runners were easy victims.

The wholesale profit, Palma said, was from 17 cents to 20 cents on the dollar, the retailers getting as high as 50 cents. "The stuff" was transferred to retailers by hand, in a certain street, into which no federal agents or other stranger could enter without exciting suspicion of the counterfeiters' lookouts. A member of the gang finally was caught in the act of tossing a large bundle of $10 notes into a car and the chase from then led on rapidly until today's roundup.

Counterfeit currency totalling $100,000 in bills of $10 and $20 denominations was confiscated. The imitation bank notes were very crude and could easily be spotted as counterfeits.

One room in the customs house was piled high with bundles of imitation money, as well as packages of counterfeit Austrian kronen and Italian lire, "bottled in bond" labels for bootleg whiskey and sacks of "phony" ten and twenty dollar gold pieces. The whiskey labels included "Black and White," "Johnny Walker," "Haig and Haig," "Old Crow," "White Horse" and other popular brands.

The agents also confiscated dies, presses and other apparatus for manufacture of counterfeit money.

UNUSUAL OPERATION SAVES NEW-BORN BABE

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Dead a second after birth, a baby boy lives again at Borough Park hospital as the result of an unusual operation in which adrenalin was injected directly into the heart.

The baby, one of twins born to Mrs. Maurice Isaacson, showed no evidence there had been respiration and the heart was still. Dr. Philip Mininberg of the hospital staff, pierced the chest wall and shot the life giving essence into the heart, which began to beat. The baby is in an incubator with his twin sister and both are gaining weight.

INVADERS PLAN NEW CASH IN RUHR ZONE

(By United Press Leased Wire)

PARIS, Feb. 21.—Stricter measures to be imposed in the Ruhr, including establishment of special money for the Rhine were discussed by Premiers Poincare and Theunis today.

Reports from the Ruhr announce increasing disorders. Essen is without police; a paralyzing general strike tied up everything in Dusseldorf; German Minister of Commerce defied the allied order and entered occupied territory to strengthen the population's resistance. Bavarians in the Ruhr valley have threatened to cut off the hair of German girls who fraternize with French troops.

SECURE CITRUS INSTITUTE FOR COUNTY

Stealing the coveted prize from under the nose of the Riverside delegation, Orange county, at the institute held yesterday as part of the National Orange show at San Bernardino, gained the annual summer citrus institute, H. E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor, announced here today.

"We feel highly elated," declared Wahlberg. "Riverside made a strenuous effort to win the institute. But Orange county's delegation at yesterday's meeting numbered 200 strong—the largest by far of any delegation there."

"Coupled with the logic of our argument in presenting the invitation to hold the annual summer citrus institute here, that Orange county is the geographic center of the citrus industry, and that climatic conditions are more favorable here than elsewhere during the summer months, our strength in numbers carried the day."

"Farm advisors of Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, San Diego and Orange counties were appointed to the committee of arrangements for the institute, which will be held at Fullerton."

"Dr. S. S. Twombly, chairman of the citrus committee of the Orange county farm bureau, presented the invitation to the institute members."

were to include:

Senator McKellar, Tennessee, from 6 to 11 hours or more, reading of Senator Smoot's 1915 filibuster speech on the Wilson ship bill.

Senator Stanley, Kentucky, two hours on prohibition and general topics.

Senator Borah, Idaho, one hour on Russia.

Speech on Tut-Ankh-Amen.

Senator Hefflin, Alabama, definitely on King Tut-Ankh-Amen and his relation to the present federal reserve system and the "wolves of Wall Street."

Filibuster speeches already made included:

Senator Sheppard, Texas, ten hours forty minutes on the league of nations.

Senator Williams, Mississippi, 43 minutes on "Republican shortcomings" and "lame ducks."

Senator Caraway, Arkansas, ten minutes on the dismissal of bureau of engraving employees.

Senator Reed, Missouri, two hours on buying the West Indies.

S. A. KIWANIS TO JOURNEY TO BEACH

Twenty-five Santa Ana Kiwanians, many of whom will be accompanied by their wives, will be present tonight at the charter presentation meeting of the La Habra club, to be held at the Virginia hotel, Long Beach, it was revealed at today's meeting of the local club at St. Ann's Inn.

J. E. Estes Jr. and E. T. Mateer, committeemen, have developed a novel stunt to be executed at the meeting. The stunt was rehearsed at the meeting today. It will prove effective in advertising Santa Ana, it was stated.

Members of the La Habra club expect an attendance tonight of 600 men and women.

The Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church here, demonstrated to Kiwanians today that he is an expert at legerdemain. The pastor put over a number of clever tricks in sleight-of-hand and slate writing.

The club decided to enter an attendance contest to be instituted by the international organization March 5, to continue until May 12. Plans for developing attendance were referred to the attendance committee, of which O. A. Haley is chairman.

A quartette composed of R. R. Miles, Harry Garstang, Earl Fraser and Leon Eckles entertained with two numbers.

3 VOTES 75 ACRES INTO SANTA ANA

Approximately 75 acres were annexed to Santa Ana by the vote yesterday of three members of the Mike Babylon family, it was disclosed today with filing at the city clerk's office of returns for the election. The members of the one family constituted the voting population of the annexed territory and the three officiated as election board officers. The voting booth was in the Babylon home.

$50,000 DAMAGE IN AUTO COMPANY BLAZE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—Fire early today caused $50,000 damage in the two story building occupied by the Weinstock Nichols Auto Supply company and caused a score of roomers in an adjoining house to flee in their night clothes. The fire was extinguished, however, without damaging the rooming house.

Firemen were hampered by the explosions of cans of gasoline and chemicals. The fire started by spontaneous combustion.

HELP MEXICAN FOLK WITH GARDENS, PLEA

In hopes that no Mexican home in Santa Ana will be without a garden this year, Miss Helen Lamson, Americanization teacher here, asked today that interested gardeners donate slips and bulbs to the would-be gardeners of her night school classes.

Arrangements have been made to take care of the donations at the office of J. A. Cranston, city school superintendent, at Church and Sycamore streets.

"Every gardener delights in sharing his treasured plants with his neighbor," declared Miss Lamson. "Why not share with the Mexican, whose love of beauty and color is a dominant racial instinct? None would be more appreciative than he for the gift of a few slips from which he could draw blossoms to add beauty and color to his home."

PROPOSE 3 MEN AS DIRECTORS OF C. OF C.

M. B. Wellington and Roy Vincent were proposed by the nominating committee to succeed Alex Brownridge and Charles D. Swanner on the board of directors of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce at a meeting held today. Dr. P. R. Reynolds was proposed for re-election.

The election was scheduled for March 6, the new board to go into office the following day when a new president is chosen by the board members.

Three years is the term of office of Chamber of Commerce directors, according to the rules and regulations of the organization. Three directors are elected each year.

H. A. Gardner, E. E. Vincent and W. B. Williams composed the nominating committee presenting this year's ticket.

Contest Possible

J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber, announced that Chamber election laws made it possible for any member to propose a contesting ticket, providing the ticket is posted at least five days previous to the election date.

Charles F. Smith, ex-officio president, will leave the executive board this year and will be succeeded by Alex Brownridge, retiring president.

As chairman of the committee handling the auto camp notes, Smith reported to the board that $9,500 had been received from sale of the notes, with virtually no solicitation.

Four new members, the Rev. William E. Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church; Becker and Williamson, barbers; Miss Rose Clausen, furniture dealer, and Edwin F. Whedon, secretary-manager of the Orange county farm bureau, were approved by the board.

Fight for U. S. Building

Promotion of activities looking toward obtaining a federal post office building here was delegated to the civic affairs committee with instructions to request endorsement of the proposition from all civic organizations, clubs and societies in Santa Ana.

Further facts tending to show the need of a Mexican community house to permit organized social service among members of the Mexican population here were brought before the board by a committee representing the Americanization work, of which Miss Helen Lamson has charge, under authority of the city school board.

POLICE FORCE AT BEACH IS INCREASED

With the unofficial announcement that the trustees of Huntington Beach had doubled the police force, and with District Attorney A. P. Nelson making a personal investigation, the authorities' efforts to maintain peace at Huntington Beach were today gaining momentum.

The increase in the number of police officers at the beach city was said to be due directly to the disturbance last Sunday, in which Officer Roy Ballard shot one of a mob which attacked him and his brother, Perry.

By the new arrangement, five officers will be added to the force, making a total of ten, and a city marshal. While the board has not officially acted, members made known their intention, and notified

Daughters of Veterans

In aiding a worthy enterprise, Tent No. 10, Daughters of Veterans, plans to hold an interesting entertainment at the Temple Theater Tuesday afternoon and evening, February 28, when it will seek to raise funds for the cause.

The cause itself is of state-wide interest, being the erection of a home at Sawtelle to offer harbor to wives of soldiers called to that little city to see their husbands at the Soldiers' home. At present they are forced to add hotel expenses to traveling expenses and the Daughters of Veterans plan to build and endow a home where they may have board and room during the time they are in Sawtelle without straining resources that are too often pitifully slender.

The entertainment will offer the picture "Cardigan" from one of Robert W. Chambers' earlier historical romances of the Revolutionary period and will be of interest to young and old who enjoy a good story of those stirring times and one that is historically correct.

Matinee prices for the performance at 3:15 will be low so that all school children may attend. In the evening prices will be moderate, although they will still be moderate. But to the picture will be added four acts of vaudeville, all local talent.

Mrs. Lois Lentz, as chairman of the program committee, with Mrs. Cyrus Lurker and Mrs. Harriet Leipsic have arranged for the appearance of the "Symphony Four," Ethel Troxell Thompson, piano; E. Larson, voice; Lyle Roberts, clarinet, and Jack Langley, violin. Paul Gonzales, with his Spanish dancers who won so warm a place in Santa Ana's affections upon their appearance with the Choral Union in "The Bohemian Girl," will present a characteristic act filled with singing and dancing.

A short play, "Our Aunt From California," directed by Miss M. Birdena Henry, director of girls' physical education at the high school, and also faculty advisor of Athena society, will be the third number. Those taking part will be the Misses Mary Nunn, Dorothy Forgy, Mildred Paul, Louise Clark, Aural Bauer and Viola Riutell. The program committee will announce the fourth act later.

Other committees working for the success of the affair have as their competent chairmen, Miss Edith Ward, finance; Mrs. Ethel Vincent, tickets; Mrs. Cyrus Lurker, stage management; Mrs. Helen McPhee, organist, and Mrs. C. H. Baird, popcorn. Mrs. Baird will direct the activities of Scout Troop No. 10, recently adopted by the Daughters, in selling popcorn between acts.

WOMAN SEEKS $1,050 DAMAGES FOR CRASH

Damages totalling $1,050 were sought in a suit brought in superior court here today by Ellena Cerga, through her guardian, Tille Cerga, against Mary Kudoff. The suit resulted from an automobile collision on the Huntington Beach boulevard near Bolsa August 18, 1922.

According to the complaint, the injuries which the plaintiff received were the result of negligence on the part of the defendant. Fifty dollars was sought for medical and surgical treatment, and the remainder as damages for the injuries.

TUSTIN, Feb. 21.—Two pairs of twins have made their appearance in Tustin during the last week. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Runnels are the father and mother of a boy and girl.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Ware are the proud father and mother of twins, a boy and a girl.

GOOD MANNERS

An unmarried woman always pays the first call of the season on a matron.

The elder of the two women is entitled to the first visit.

In large cities, when the season for formal calls opens, the first call generally depends somewhat upon convenience and upon at-home days, but some women make their first calls with reference to courtesies extended or received the preceding season.

NEWS BRIEFS

A new scheme of seating, to be followed during the present semester at assemblies in the high school here, was recently worked out, it was announced today. All students are seated on the lower floor by classes, the seniors in the center section, juniors in the east section, sophomores in the west section, new sophomores in the center section of the balcony and the junior college students in the two front sections of the balcony. All other seats at assemblies are available for any persons outside the school who may desire to attend, it was announced.

E. D. Yost, theater manager here, has consented to permit the junior class of the high school to borrow certain scenery from one of his theaters, for use in "The Hot Tent," which the class will present at the high school auditorium Friday night, it was announced today. This scenery, augmenting the auditorium's, will assure a fine production, it was pointed out.

The whys, wherefores and whos of old land grants in Orange county are to be discussed in a paper to be presented before the Orange County Historical society Monday evening at the Santa Ana public library, it was announced today. William G. McPherson, of McPherson, will be the speaker.

Members of the Orange County Bankers' association are to be shown and told things about the inside workings of the Federal Reserve bank in Los Angeles, tonight. The Orange county bankers are to be the guests of the reserve bank at dinner at 6:30 o'clock, and after that the methods used in the bank are to be explained with a view to giving the bankers a better understanding of what Uncle Sam's bank stands ready to do and what it stands solidly not to do.

H. J. Selway, 109 West Third street, a former resident of Montana, today announced that the Montana State society would hold its annual picnic at Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles, March 3. All former Montanans, as well as visitors, were being cordially invited, he said. The picnicers were urged to bring basket dinners. Hot coffee will be served on the grounds.

German postal authorities take exception to certain envelopes, used for mailing in this country, which have side flaps that are poorly gummed or not at all. Postmaster C. D. Overshiner learned today. "Such envelopes," read a communication he received, "may easily, without visible damage to the envelope, be opened. It is requested that senders be instructed to use only strong, well-gummed envelopes."

Mr. and Mrs. John Lamb and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Jerome left here today for Santa Barbara, where Jerome and Lamb will attend the annual convention of county auditors and tax collectors. The convention will continue until Saturday, it was expected.

Tentative plans for the Southern California walnut field day to be held here this summer will be discussed by members of the executive committee of the walnut department of the Orange county farm bureau at a meeting to be held at the farm advisor's office Friday at 2 p. m. E. Wahlberg, the advisor, announced today. Members of the committee include J. A. Smiley, West Orange; S. W. Stanley, Tustin; J. J. Dwyer, Anaheim; Fred Rowland, Santa Ana; Wayne Holt, Garden Grove; C. E. Smith, La Habra, and Arthur McFadden, Irvine.

Ebbel club members, gathering at the Temple Theater here Monday afternoon, will hear a program of purely local talent, according to an announcement made today by the club secretary, Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks. The afternoon will be one of music and readings with Mrs. Arnold Peak, Miss Mabel Woodworth of Garden Grove, and Eleanor Young Elliott appearing. Important matters of business will also arise for consideration by the membership.

Santa Ana's building program for this year reached $603,017 today with the issuance of the 274th permit by W. S. Decker, building inspector. Three permits were issued today, representing $1,150 of construction work. For the month 110 permits had been issued for $263,883 in building value, according to Decker's records.

Washington's birthday exercises to be held in Santa Ana schools tomorrow will be open to the public, it was announced at the office of J. A. Cranston, city school superintendent, today. Exercises, it was said, will begin at the high school at 9:45 a. m.; at the elementary schools at 11:30 a. m., and at the junior college at 11 a. m.

Court of honor of district No. 4 for the Orange county council of Boy Scouts of America will be held tonight in the Fremont school at Anaheim, it was announced here today by Roland E. Dye, scout executive. C. G. Smith will be chairman. Districts Nos. 1 and 2 will hold courts of honor at the community hall, Garden Grove, Friday evening. R. Miller is chairman of these districts.

WOULD AMEND NARCOTICS PENALTIES

SAN JOSE, Feb. 21.—The grand jury of Santa Clara county, now in session, having made a thorough investigation into the devastating effects of the illegal traffic in narcotics which is being carried on throughout the state of California, and has directed a letter on the subject to other grand juries of the state. The letter says in part:

"We consider this the most serious problem which confronts us today. Not only is it demoralizing in its frightful results, but it is spreading rapidly, partly due, perhaps, to the very publicity which is now being given it, as well as to the sinister fact that every drug addict attempts to initiate others into the habit."

"The grand jury of Santa Clara county is convinced that the only way to solve this problem is to attack the drug peddler who has in the past carried on his infamous traffic almost immune from punishment. Owing to the inadequacy of our state law, not a single conviction for the sale of narcotics has been secured against drug peddlers in the city of San Jose during the year of 1922, and in our superior court there has been only one conviction in almost two years. The reason given is that proof of two sales is required, and the testimony of drug addicts is always considered unreliable, as well as the fact that the minute quantities handled defy detection, and the traffickers are crafty and clever."

"We believe that the penalty for selling narcotics is entirely inadequate for the seriousness of the crime, and that the sentence should be made far more severe. However, as convictions for selling narcotics are very difficult to obtain, it is of much greater importance to largely increase the maximum penalty for the misdemeanor of having drugs in one's possession. Instead of a maximum penalty of six months and $500 fine, it should be at least six years' imprisonment or more for the first offense, and ten years or more for the second offense. This will make the offense triable in the superior court and thus secure better juries and more chance for conviction."

"The State Legislators of our county have promised us their full support of our endeavor to change the present law in reference to the sale of narcotics. 'Will you co-operate with us by immediately recommending to your legislators that they support this simple, practical, and constructive measure empowering our superior judges to adequately punish these infamous drug peddlers, and thus stamp out a traffic which is today the greatest menace to our state and to our nation.'"

ANAHEIM-ARTESIA ROAD CONTRACT LET

Steele Finley, local paving contractor, today planned to begin Monday the rebuilding of three miles of pavement on the highway leading out of Anaheim west to Artesia, following award to him by the board of supervisors late last evening of a contract for the work.

Finley's bid was submitted for asphalt concrete to be applied in two courses. His bid was $5500 lower than the next lowest bidder for concrete work. Construction is to be of 4, 5 and 6-inch pavement, with two-foot composed granite shoulders. The improvement will begin at the oil station on Lincoln street and run to the county line, near Artesia. Four-inch work will be laid over the old pavement. Where the old pavement is badly shattered, it will be rebuilt entirely. It is understood most of the work will require 6-inch pavement. The total contract price is $57,599.

P. L. Chattock, of the asphalt division of the Standard Oil company, today pointed out that improvement of the street with asphalt would make it possible to use the highway within twenty-four hours after each section is completed, thus eliminating inconvenience to traffic occasioned by the seasoning process when cement concrete is used.

He also pointed out that Finley was awarded the contract for paving Bush street, this city, from Seventeenth street to Santa Clara avenue, on his bid of three fourths of a cent less for asphaltic concrete than the lowest bid for cement concrete.

MUSIC CONTEST TO DRAW HIGH SCHOOLS

Football, basketball and track all will have to take back seats in interscholastic competition some day in the near future when the high schools of the county meet for their annual music contest. The glee clubs and instrumental musicians of the county schools are working diligently on their selections for the contest, which was a huge success last year, and bids fair to be even more so this year. Music directors are now busy drilling their glee clubs and choosing the selections which will be the competition numbers. The date for the contest has not been definitely fixed.

nounced here today by Roland E. Dye, scout executive. C. G. Smith will be chairman. Districts Nos. 1 and 2 will hold courts of honor at the community hall, Garden Grove, Friday evening. R. Miller is chairman of these districts.

SARAH FINLEY, TEACHER, IS SUMMONED

Scores of friends, intimate companions and relatives today were mourning the death, here last night, of Miss Sarah Finley, 65, who passed away at her home, 634 North French street, after a lingering illness. Death was attributed to a complication of diseases.

Funeral services, conducted by the Rev. J. G. Kennedy, former pastor of the United Presbyterian church here, will be held tomorrow at 3:30 p. m., from the chapel of Smith and Tutthill. Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

Miss Finley, who was widely known and loved as one of the pioneer school teachers of Orange county, was a native of Missouri. With her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Finley, of Lincoln county, Mo., she came to California in 1878.

Settling in the Sacramento valley, the family resided in Sacramento county for seven years, coming to this county in 1878. Evincing a keen interest in educational matters and eager to do her part in contributing to the culture of the community, Miss Finley spent many years in the schools of the county.

Her earlier teaching experience was in a little one-room schoolhouse near Talbert. Here she was largely instrumental in shaping the careers of scores of boys and girls who, in later life, were destined to have prominent parts in the development of Orange county.

After teaching for five or six years in the Talbert district, Miss Finley was transferred to Villa Park and, later, to Westminster. She was actively engaged in teaching in Santa Ana proper at the time of her retirement, some fifteen years ago.

Health Declined.
Miss Finley who had been in declining health for the past three or four years, maintained her cheerful and Christian attitude throughout her illness. She was never too weary to think first of the comfort and encouragement of others. Miss Finley, confined to her home for several months, had been virtually bedridden for the past two weeks.

Surrounded by her loved ones, the beloved teacher passed into the night of eternity at midnight. The end was peaceful. Miss Finley is survived by three brothers and two sisters. They are, S. H. Finley, Santa Ana; Albert Finley, Tustin; Steele Finley, Santa Ana; Mrs. Emma McBride, now a resident of Los Angeles, and Miss Lulu B. Finley, of Santa Ana. Mrs. E. B. Sprague, Santa Ana, is a niece of the deceased.

Six of Miss Finley's nephews will act as pall-bearers. They are: J. L. McBride, Harold W. Finley, and Knox Finley, Santa Ana; A. T. McBride, Sacramento; and W. Harold Finley and James Finley of Lemon Heights.

THEATER WILL GIVE ENCOURAGEMENT TO ARTISTS OF NATION

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—A new theater, for the sole purpose of encouraging American opera, drama and music, will soon be built by Morris Gest, famous producer, who is now handling the Moscow Art Theater here.

The new building, in which young American artists may try out their ideas, and carry on experiments in the different branches of dramatic and musical art, will be furnished in the simplest manner; its chief characteristics will be capacity and plainness.

"There will not be a streak of gilt or a bit of plush in the whole playhouse," Mr. Gest said, "nor a trace of pomp or luxury in the furnishings. The stage itself will be gorgeous or bare, as the production requires."

"I will build this theater for the discovery of, and experimenting with American native talent. Maybe some foreign plays will be given at times, but American ones will greatly predominate."

One of the main reasons for the plainness of the house is the fact that all available funds will be needed for producing.

"We need money to produce failures," Mr. Gest said, "and there will be many of these, so we cannot afford to waste anything on the building or the decoration."

"And young America will make good, for talent is latent here throughout this vast country, a profusion of talent, awaiting only guidance and adequate opportunity," Mr. Gest said.

MAKES PLATINUM FIND

REDDING, Calif., Feb. 21.—Interest in platinum mining in this vicinity was aroused today, by announcement that Breet A. Hall, miner from Bella Vista, Calif., had struck a pocket of platinum running $1250 to the ton at his mine 15 miles from here.

4 YOUTHS PICK LOCK OF CELL. MAKE ESCAPE

Captured when they attempted to "bum" a ride from Deputy Sheriff G. E. McClellan and as a result were confined in a cell at the Orange county hospital, only to escape about 10:50 p. m. yesterday, four Santa Monica youths, the eldest 14, today were being sought by county authorities, who had held them in connection with a series of alleged automobile thefts.

The lads left Santa Monica four days ago, they said, travelling on foot, and had stopped at many towns during that time.

As McClellan, accompanied by City Marshal M. E. Jensen, Orange, was riding along the Anaheim boulevard, they were hailed by the lads, who desired a ride. Just as the boys were about to step into the car, one of them espied the badge which the marshal wore, and they set out through a field, with the officers in pursuit.

Captured, they were placed in a cell at the Orange county hospital, while their alleged pilfering activities in Anaheim were investigated. According to the authorities, they had robbed many automobiles, and a novelty store at the Mother Colony.

About 10:45 p. m. yesterday, a nurse, returning to the hospital from Santa Ana, saw the lads near the end of North Main street. Reaching the hospital, she found them gone and notified the sheriff's office. Under Sheriff E. E. French searched for them but failed to secure any trace of the youths.

Investigation at the hospital disclosed that the boys had picked the lock on the bars before a window, and had made their escape in that way. Three other boys, juvenile wards, who were confined with them, made no attempt to leave.

Police and sheriff's men were searching today for the lads.

"GARRISON'S FINISH AT WEST END TONIGHT

Few casts in current photoplays
are as completely filled with well-known favorites as Jack Pickford's new "Garrison's Finish," which opens at the West End theater tonight.

Almost from top to bottom, every player whose name appears is either a popular screen artist of many years' standing or among the best known of the younger generation now approaching stardom.

The veteran in the cast is Charles Ogle, who has been continuously on the screen for sixteen years. Everybody who goes to see pictures with any degree of regularity knows him well, for he has played prominent parts in many big features.

Clarence Burton has been long established on the screen as one of the greatest "heavies" ever developed in the silent drama. He plays the villain in "Garrison's Finish."

Another pioneer, although still quite young, is Ethel Grey Terry,
who has been before the public professionally ever since she was a babe in arms in dramatic stock.
Her debut was occasioned by the need of an infant who would cry justly at the right time. From that date Miss Terry was identified with the stage until she transferred her talents to the screen.

Tom Prior, also a celebrity of the screen, has done much of his best work while supporting caris-matic members of the Pickford family. He played important roles in several Mary Pickford releases.

Parent-Teachers

An entertainment will be given by the pupils of the new Lowell school Thursday, February 22 at 7:30 p. m. Following the entertainment the P.T. A. will sell coffee, cake, candy, aprons and other articles. There also will be a fish pond for those who like a game of chance. All parents are especially invited to be there.

FRANKLIN SCHOOL

Outlining the growth and development of the school system of this country since colonial days when
"the three Rs," "readin', 'ritin' and
'rithmetic" constituted the higher education, Mrs. Earl Morris last night held the interested attention of Franklin P.T. A. at the Fathers' night program in the kindergarten room of the school.

Mrs. Morris, president of the fourth district C. of M. and P.T.
A., traced the logical growth of interest in the public schools—an interest which resulted in Parent-Teacher organizations.

A large crowd gathered for the affair over which Mrs. Flake Smith presided.

The program as arranged by Mrs.
Norton and Mrs. Nat H. Neff, presented a pretty fairy play by children of Miss Edna Copeland's room, a drill by a group of little girls of the first and second grades,
with Miss Gail Shelton at the piano; songs with an amusing
"up-side down" finale by the boys of Miss Sadie McConaughy's class;
saxophone numbers by Bruce Vegely with Miss Constance Vegely at the piano, a song, "Dutch Lullaby,"
by Thelma Norton with Mrs. Neff
at the piano and readings by Eleanor Young Elliott.

Following the talk by Mrs. Morris and a discussion led by Mr.
Norton, it was voted that the association register a protest against cutting down the state school budget.

During the friendly gathering
following the business session, coffee and home-made cake were served by the hostess committee, Mrs. Guy Koons, Mrs. Frank Stewart, Mrs. Joseph Thomas and Mrs.
E. L. Vegely.

McKINLEY SCHOOL

At a recent meeting of the Mc-Kinley school P.T. A. with the new president, Mrs. William Anderson in charge, a large number were present to enjoy the program and take part in the business session and round-table discussion.

The program consisted of a violin solo by Marian Nau with Miss Grace White at the piano and readings by Miss Gertrude Schaffer.

Seventeen new members were added to the list, and were greeted during the social hour when refreshments were served by Mrs. J.
J. Hersheiser, Mrs. Cole and Mrs.
Jennie Damerell, mothers of grade children.

3 SLIGHTLY INJURED
IN MOTOR ACCIDENTS

Three persons were slightly injured in two automobile accidents
yesterday, according to reports
filed at police headquarters today.

Mary Helen Larrimer and Buddy Brunner were slightly hurt
when a machine, which was driven by Lee Larrimer, and in which they were riding, collided with an automobile, registered under the number, 744,281, at the intersection of South Main street and Newport
boulevard, late yesterday.

F. Jones, 808 East Second street, was confined to his home with injuries sustained yesterday when a car driven by Walter Stromerson collided with a truck from Laguna Beach at Eleventh and Main streets, Santa Ana.

"HEARTS AFLAME" CLOS-ES AT PRINCESS TONIGHT

As Luke Taylor, the mill/onaire lumber king in Reginald Barker's picture, "Hearts Aflame," at the Princess theater, Frank Keenan, veteran actor and screen favorite,
creates one of the greatest characters of his career on the screen.
Cast to play the part of a crabbed
old individual who has more money than he can possibly spend,
but who aches for activity and the life of a logging camp, as he had known it in his youth, Keenan brings to the role all the force and versatility at his command, according to those who have seen the picture.

Photoplay critics in the newspapers have commented on the way in which he invests the part of the sour old man with a depth of feeling and understanding which inspires the admiration and sympathy of the audience, in spite of the forbidding manner of the character. Keenan lives the part of old man Taylor in this version of the famous novel, "Timber," by Harold Titus.

They ascribe Keenan's success in this role to the fact that the character of Luke Taylor is in many instances much like his own, although Keenan has none of the crabbedness of old Taylor in the picture.

Both Keenan and the character
he enacts in "Hearts Aflame" are men well along past middle age,
both wealthy, both eager to fill up their day with something worthwhile, rather than spending it in the idleness of old age. Keenan's participation in "Hearts Aflame" is said to be more than interesting because of this similarity existing between himself and the man whose life he lives throughout the picture, as well as because it marks
his return to the screen after a number of years of retirement from active work.

TO MARRY SHORTLY

TOKIO, Feb. 21.—Although no
new date for the ceremony has been announced, preparations for the wedding of Prince Regent Hirohito and Princess Nagako are being rushed. It has been announced that Emperor Yoshihito
is not expected to recover sufficiently to attend the wedding, necessitating circumventing the construction which obligates the presence of the ruler at the wedding of his heir. In the event of the death of the emperor, it would not be possible to hold the wedding for two years. The preparations include many European features and the elimination of the ancient ceremonies.

Returns from Visit
In Beaumont

After a visit of nearly three months in Beaumont, Texas, Mrs.
H. M. Brothers is being greeted by her many friends, following her arrival at her home, 1421 North Broadway, Saturday of last week.

Mrs. Brothers had the sorrow of losing her father, J. W. Barr, during her stay in the Lone Star state,
as his death came suddenly late in January, at his home in Nederland, Texas. Mrs. Brothers was at her father's home at the time
as were her two brothers, Dr. Guy
E. Barr of Sioux City, Iowa, and
H. A. Barr of Beaumont.

Coinciding with her return to Santa Ana was the arrival of Mrs.
W. H. White Jr., and tiny Miss Phyllis White, who came from their Huntington Park home to spend a week or more with Dr.
and Mrs. Brothers. Mrs. White was Miss Lucile Brothers.

Thoroughbreds Three

THE GIRL —As pure and sweet as a baby's smile, fragrant with daintiness and symbolic of all that makes Kentucky's womanhood revered at home and abroad.

THE BOY —Young, impetuous and with an inherent faith in all mankind;
clean-minded, honest almost to a fault; loyal to the point of personal peril.

THE HORSE —Big and upstanding, kindly of eye, fleet as the Blue Grass winds, gentle as the zephyrs, yet as staunch-hearted and as courageous as any jungle beast.

THE THREE —In a Jack Pickford photoplay alive with action; so thrilling that it hurts, so entrancing that it holds. A great star in a great story with a great cast.

News Notes of Interest To ClubwomenYoung Matrons
Entertain Friends
At Bridge Afternoon

The first of a duo of attractive bridge afternoons was presented yesterday by Mrs. Adrian McCain and Mrs. Elmer Preston, entertaining amid the lovely surroundings of the C. M. McCain home on North Main street.

The proximity of Washington's birthday offered the decorative motif carried out in deep red sweet peas in crystal baskets and in the tally cards, as well as in favors and gay little red, white and blue nut cups characterizing the refreshments served late in the afternoon.

George and Martha Washington
also figured in the fest served which were frozen in the form of heads of the immortal pair.

Assisting the hostesses in receiving their guests were Mrs. C.
M. McCain, Mrs. Earl Abbey, Mrs.
Oscar Preston, Mrs. James Livesey sr., and Mrs. James Livesey jr.

Fortunate holders of high score were awarded pretty gifts at the close of the afternoon. Mrs. George Paul Jr. receiving first prize of an attractive polychrome powder jar
on a stand; Mrs. Harry Kendall receiving the second prize of a similar jar minus the stand while Mrs. Burr Shafer was given a dainty pink and white tea-apron as consolation for holding low score.

Mrs. McCain and Mrs. Preston were presenting the second affair
along similar lines this afternoon.

Guests at yesterday's function included Mesdames Anthony Adams, Don Andrews, Jack Burrows, C. V. Doty, Nelson Edgar, George Paul Jr., Ocia Hardin, John
Jacobs Jr., Harry Kendall, Charles
Kendall Jr., Floyd Knight, James Livesey Jr., Samuel Marsden, Harold Nelson, Robert Paine Jr., Arnold Peek, Homer Robinson, Fred Steuer, Burr Shafer, Howard Timmons, E. B. Van Meter, Earl Abbey, Bertrand West, Tom Willis,

Miss Elizabeth Paine.

Pleasant Luncheon
Honors Birthdays

A pleasant air of intimacy prevailed at a smart little luncheon
with which Miss Rosa Clausen entertained Monday at her North Main street home. The affair, according to friends of the hostess,
was in celebration of two important anniversaries, that of George Washington and also of Miss Clausen.

Pink sweet peas danced gaily in the center of the table while place cards and other decorative appointments harmonized in coloring.

Each place was further marked by a quaint medallion of the Father of His Country as an attractive favor.

Missionary Tea

The missionary tea which was to have been held Friday afternoon,
February 23 at the home of Mrs.
Covington, 1230 North Broadway,
under the auspices of Spurgeon
Memorial church, has been indefinitely postponed on account of illness in the Covington family.

Utah Dinner Guests

Entertaining with a pleasantly
arranged 6 o'clock dinner Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. W. O.
Packard, 510 South Broadway, honored a group of friends recently from Utah. Covers were laid for twelve.

Ebell Travelers
Happily Celebrate
Eighteenth Birthday

An eighteenth birthday, that magical age at which femininity
attains its majority, was happily celebrated last night by members of Ebell's First Travel section
when they entertained their husbands at dinner in the pleasant atmosphere of St. Ann's Inn.

Crystal baskets filled with varicolored sweet peas decked the table while the birthday of the illustrious Washington was suggested by the clever little axes, cherry trees and other appropriate place cards and favors.

Following the elaborate dinner
the Travelers traveled on to the hostable home of Mr. and Mrs.
George S. Smith, 916 Fremont street where a radio concert was enjoyed.

The First Travel section is one of the oldest in Ebell society and boasts many charter members as well as the first Ebell president, Mrs. J. W. Bishop. Its present
leader, Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner, has occupied that position for a number of years.

Those who gathered for last night's pleasant anniversary were
Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dawes, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J.
P. Baumgartner, Mr. and Mrs.
George S. Smith, Mr. and Mrs.
Terry Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. I.
W. Van Cleave, Mr. and Mrs.
Stephen Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Henry
R. Bristol of Owensmouth, Mesdames J. W. Bishop, A. W. Ames, Mary F. Heathman and William M.
Smart and Mr. J. J. Roper.

The latest meeting of the section
prior to the birthday anniversary
was a pleasantly appointed luncheon with which Mrs. A. W. Ames and Mrs. M. F. Heathman entertained Monday in the private dining room of the Inn.

Sweet peas formed the table decorations for that affair also while attractive valentines were used as place cards. Following the luncheon members remained in the pleasant intimacy of the little dining room to enjoy the program of the afternoon.

Creative Arts Club

Beginning with the University of California art exhibit and tea in Los Angeles next Sunday afternoon, members of the Creative Arts anticipate a busy and interesting week filled with various events.

At the Sunday affair the club
as a unit will accept the invitation to present and view the work of representative California painters. The tea will begin at 3 o'clock and will be held at the Administration building of the university.
Prior to that hour the local group
will attend the traveling exhibition of work of American painters at Exposition park, where the doors will open at 2 p. m.

In the evening all will attend
the "Pot-Boiler" that aggregation of Los Angeles artists which meets every Sunday night in the Egan theater for a program, supper and for informal picture exhibits.

On Tuesday night, Feb. 27, will be held the regular meeting of the Creative Arts with Mrs. Robert Northcross opening her home for the affair.

Miss Margaret May of the public library has consented to give a talk on the mechanics of books,
their printing and binding and a number of guests will be entertained. The program to be given by Alan Revill of the music section of the club has been postponed until a later date, when
Mr. Revill will present a number of his own musical compositions.

The following night, Saturday, March 3, Miss Evelyn Nunn of the club will appear before the California Art club in Los Angeles to deliver a lecture on Japanese Art. Many members of the local club plan to be present, as a cordial invitation has been extended them to attend and share in the honors accorded one of their number.

OLD SUMMONS FOUND

LEWISTOWN, Pa., Feb. 20.— Sheriff's summonses usually are something not to be trifled with,
but one was read here recently
that will never give the person named the least excuse to worry.
The summons bore the date of January 17, 1793. It was discovered carefully hidden in the walls of an old property here by E. E.
Ulsh, a contractor, who was making some repairs to the property.

Cutlery sharpened at Hawley's.

Plans Progressing
For Ebell Tea Room
And Woman's Exchange

Spending today in Los Angeles,
Mrs. W. F. Menton and Miss Lula Minter, members of the ways and means committee of Ebell society,
were gleaning ideas for the equipment and management of the woman's exchange which Ebell
will launch on or near the first of March in the basement of the Building and Loan association building.

In connection with the exchange,
it is the intention of the ways and means committee to establish a tea-room, where guests may be assured of a friendly atmosphere,
a cup of fragrant tea, piping hot,
and a wee bite to eat at any hour
during the afternoon that inclination bids them tarry.

Walls of the big room have already been decorated to harmonize with the chosen color scheme
of black and yellow which will dominate the tea-room, and it is the intention of the committee
to have the quaint little tables
and chairs painted to correspond,
while hangings, pillows and other minor accessories will be chosen with an eye to their fitness.

In the meantime the committee
is sending forth an urgent appeal
to Ebell membership and friends to aid in kitchen equipment which is sadly needed. First of all is the stove, one with an elevated oven.
It is hoped that some friendly soul
may be disposed to donate that very necessary article or at least to make such terms as will bring it within the reach of a not-very-full purse.

A kitchen table is also a necessity and other articles which will readily suggest themselves to the mind of a housewife.

With the establishment of the exchange it is the hope of the society to bring producer and consumer together. All women of the city who wish to place fancy work, sewing or kindred articles
as well as cooked, baked and canned goods on sale on a commission basis, are asked to get into communication with the committee through Miss Minter, 1548
or through the chairman, Mrs. S.
W. Nau, Tustin 17-W.

Also applicants for a position as manager of the new venture are requested to present their written qualifications to Miss Minter, West Third street, by noon on Friday,
February 23.

Masons to Dance
Friday Night

On Friday night, February 23, will occur one of the justly famed Masonic dances when members of Lodge No. 241 will entertain their friends at Masonic temple.

Messrs. Carl Mock, Joseph P.
Smith and Dr. M. A. Patton form
the entertainment committee and have arranged for a delightful program of music to be furnished by the Chapman orchestra. At the same time that dancing is in progress
in the ballroom, the chapter room will be arranged for cards
under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Robert White.

All Masons and their wives are extended a cordial invitation to be present at the affair which will open at 8 o'clock.

On Hands In Blisters 3 Months.
Burned and Could Not Work.

"I was bothered with eczema on my hands for about three months.
It broke out in blisters and itched and burned. I could not put my hands in water or do my regular work. I tried several remedies but nothing seemed to do much good.
I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using one cake
of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) George T. Cole-

Many Guests Enjoy
Happy Afternoon
At Sawyer Home

Extending a charming courtesy to Mrs. Remus Fipps by calling together a group of her close friends in her honor, Mrs. Oscar Schildmyer of Orange and Mrs.
Frank Sawyer of this city entertained yesterday afternoon at the Sawyer home, 913 West Fifth street.

An amusing doll-dressing contest in which clothespins figured as dolls, offered entertainment
while a group of songs by Mrs.
Raymond Mayer jr. with Mrs.
Snodgrass at the piano, added to the pleasure.

Many beautiful gifts prepared for the honor guest, had been hidden in various parts of the home and Mrs. Fipps had the exciting pleasure of hunting for them and later opening them to display to the admiring friends congregated.

At the tea hour a delightful
three course menu was served with sweet peas and ferns centering the small tables. Place cards, nut cups and other table
appointments were all in delicate pink and white colorings.

Guests of Mrs. Sawyer and Mrs.
Schildmyer included in addition to the honoree, Mrs. Fipps, her mother, Mrs. A. W. Stahl, Mesdames K. Browne, A. Snodgrass, A. Ritter, Viola Fipps, Dick Hawkins, James Walker, Raymond Mayer Jr., Will Adams of this city, and from out of the city, Mrs. G. A. Long and Mrs. A.

DOPE FIENDS INCREASE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—
The percentage of narcotic addicts
in San Quentin prison has risen from 3.12 in 1917 to 11 last year, Warden James A. Johnston of the penitentiary said at a luncheon
of the San Francisco Bar association. He said he did not believe the use of drugs could be laid to prohibition.

"This might be the case if there was any prohibition," the warden declared, "but the Bar association knows that it is not difficult to get a drink."

The Result
Of 100 Years Experience
For $5.00

—The Mallory people have been making good hats for 100 years.
—They couldn't have stayed in business that long without making GOOD hats. Any firm that does ONE THING for 100 years ought to do that one thing well.
—The result of what 100 years'
experience is a hat that represents
the utmost value for the money.
The price of the Mallory hat is just $5.00, but it compares favorably with hats of much higher price.

Fashion Gives Egyptian
Printed Silks Prominence

Patterns Featured Exclusively at Gilbert's

$3.25—$3.50—$3.95

Of all dress fabrics, silks hold the most enviable position in the world of Fashion this season. Because of this fact we are more than ever better prepared to supply a demand for high grade silks that give evidence of exceeding all previous years.

A most delightful showing of the latest craze, Egyptian printed silks in a wonderful color range, printed on heavy crepe de chine, canton crepe, tricolette, crepe knit and canton knit.

These extreme patterns are bought in small pieces so that no pattern will be overdone, making them almost exclusive.

Paris-inspired models in those "chic" symphonies of line
and color that reveal the artist-designer at his best.

Simply charming are the new silk dresses for Spring, developed combinations of Egyptian printed silks and plain materials so much in vogue.

A lengthy chapter might properly be written in explanation of the numerous models in this display assembled for your guidance in choosing, yet it would explain less than even the most casual examination. Assurance that the beauty of the new modes will tempt prompt purchases is doubly assured by such pricing as follows:

With Jaws and Hammers of Steel

Into a steel-lined pit, like a huge inverted bell with upright clapper, crash six tons of limestone and shale from a dump car.

The long process of crushing and grinding necessary in cement making begins.

Slowly, steadily, the great clapper of the gyratory crusher travels a circular path—crunches the huge chunks of stone to inch-and-a-half fragments.

The fragments pour out below on their way to the grinding mills.

In the first mill, a hundred hinged hammers pound and crush the rock to particles the size of sand.

Next, the materials go to the tube mill—a cylinder as big as a locomotive boiler, half filled with steel balls. As it revolves, it lifts the charge of steel and rock and tumbles it down again and again. An hour of this yields a powder finer than flour.

All this is only part of the grinding required. The powder is burned to glass-hard clinker—and then the grinding process starts all over again.

A jaw crusher cracks the clinker; balls hammer it to the fineness of sand.

And again, for an hour, the mass tumbles about in another tube mill, grinding and rubbing together clinker, steel balls and gypsum. Then you have cement.

To meet standard specifications, 78 per cent of the finished cement must pass through a sieve having forty thousand holes per square inch, which is finer than the finest silk.

To obtain a ton of finished cement, a cement plant grinds to this fineness two tons of raw materials, including coal, and a ton of glass-hard clinker—three tons altogether to make one ton of portland cement.

Crushing, grinding and pulverizing are among the more than eighty operations in cement making.

SENATOR WARNS ROTARIANS ON UNFIT ALIEN

Pronouncing his firm conviction that the source of power of America lies in its individual citizen, and that the standards of citizenship should be protected against the unfit alien, William Alden Smith, former United States senator from Michigan, who is visiting here, was the principal speaker on the Santa Ana Rotary club's citizenship program given at St. Ann's at noon yesterday.

The achievements and purposes of Americanization work among Mexicans in Santa Ana were outlined to the Rotarians by Miss Helen Lamson, who is in charge of the work for the Santa Ana schools.

The program was in charge of a committee composed of former officers of the club, with Mac O. Robbins as chairman.

"The Americans Come" was sung by Robert Brown, as a solo fitting into the program.

"You cannot teach citizenship," said Senator Smith, "for it is a thing that is attained by touching of elbows, feeling with the hands and visualizing with the eyes. The first duty of every citizen today is to interest himself in government."

Believes in Politics
"I believe in politics, I believe in partisan politics, because it fixes responsibility and because it excites radical interest. I believe in the spoils of office, and not at all in civil service reform. I have never seen such autocracy in our government as exists in civil service. Under civil service institutions, the chief clerk becomes an autocrat. Civil service does not apply to the larger offices of the land; why should it apply to lesser offices?"

"In the great war," he said, "Germany was defeated because we had a republic worth defending." Senator Smith here gave a bit of interesting inside history.

"I asked President Wilson," he said, "why he had not given the German ambassador his passports immediately after the sinking of the Lusitania, and he replied that at that time the people of America would not have sustained a declaration of war. And he was right, for at that time thousands upon thousands of letters and telegrams had poured into Washington against war."

Nation Aroused
"Balfour came over and told us that all they wanted was ships and munitions. Later Joffre asked for a few soldiers for moral support. It was when Germany was smashing on to Paris and the people of this country realized that victory to the Germans meant the placing of this republic in jeopardy that we were aroused to our danger."

The speaker declared that the difference between the American army and the armies of the enemy lay in the individual soldier.

"The government that has the best soldier is the government that gives to the private citizen the greatest opportunity of citizenship."

In closing, the senator declared that he did not believe in giving the right to vote to an alien on a cursory examination when, because they are under 21 years of age, the right to vote is denied American-born youths, who fight the battles of their country.

Miss Lamson declared that her work among the Mexicans has been of a practical nature.

The response of the Mexican women is wonderful," she said. "They are taught how to beautify their yards, how to dispose of garbage, how to sew."

"We should let the Mexicans come into contact with the best part of American life," she declared. "If we refuse him that privilege, how can we expect him to blossom out as an American citizen?"

BRIDE DESERTS MAN IN LESS THAN YEAR, DIVORCE SUIT PLEA

Less than a year transpired after the marriage of Carl R. Wright to Onie Wright, when the bride deserted her husband, according to a suit for divorce brought in superior court here today by Wright.

The couple were married in Los Angeles, December 17, 1920, the complaint asserted. The following October 17 the wife deserted the plaintiff, he said.

Attorney Roland Thompson, Santa Ana, represented the plaintiff. The husband was charged with desertion in a suit for divorce brought here by Anna Marlborough against Numa Marlborough. They were married in March, 1916, and separated February 25, 1921.

The wife asked for $50 a month alimony. Attorney John Harvey was her counsel.

GIRLS TO PLAN Y HUT FURNISHINGS

Preparing for the opening of the new Y. W. C. A. hut on the high school campus, members of the College association will meet at the home of their secretary, Miss Isabel Anderson, 501 Wellington avenue, tomorrow night to plan furnishing plans for the hut.

It was announced today. Miss Francis Battey, art chairman on the cabinet, has made a little block print and the girls are planning to mark all the towels and linen used in the rest room and kitchenette with the blue triangle of the Y. W. C. A.

Sewing, marking linen and generally planning for the hut will be combined with the regular meeting, plans for which are in the hands of Miss Elizabeth Anderson. Miss Persana Deimling will be generalissimo of the sewing section.

The Y girls expect to move into the hut within the next two or three weeks.

DIVORCE TOPIC AS CHURCHMEN HOLD MEETS

Discussion of divorce laws, European conditions and credits, featured programs given last night at meetings of the Men's Brotherhoods of the Spurgeon Memorial church and of the First Methodist church.

Judge W. H. Thomas discussed divorce and world conditions in an address before the Brotherhood of Spurgeon Memorial church, in which he advocated publicity for contemplated marriages at least thirty days before the date of the wedding. In his opinion, application for a license thirty days in advance of its use, with due notice of the granting of the license, would prove effective in reducing the number of divorces.

He declared that there were a brotherhood of nations, operating with the same high ideals of church brotherhoods, wars would be impossible and conditions such as exist in Europe could not obtain.

Give Music Program
Selections by the Sunday school orchestra, led by Miss Eunice Jones, and recitations by Mrs. J. W. Estes were other features of the program. Dinner was served by a committee of women of the church.

P. M. Couch, manager of a wholesale paper firm in Los Angeles, was the speaker at the Brotherhood meeting at the First Methodist church.

Credits was his subject, a departure from the usual program at such meetings. Couch was for twelve years credit manager for the firm he represents, and his discourse on credits was one of interest and instruction. In classifying conditions that determine whether one is entitled to credit, the speaker gave character as the first requisite, capacity second, and capital third.

Develops New Feature.
The fact that the former credit man, through years of experience, had concluded that character was the first foundation for credit, brought out a new feature. The general supposition is that capital takes precedence over any other requisite, it was pointed out.

Fred Zaiser, formerly in the wholesale business in the East and now a resident of Santa Ana, also

Other Girls Had Dozens of Fellows—I Was a Wall Flower

My Cheeks Were Pale and Sallow, My Neck Scrawny, My Lips
Colorless: Today I Am As Popular As Any of the Other Girls Because I Have Learned the Secret of Radiant
Health and Beauty and Have a Well-Rounded Face and Figure.

Try making this slight change in YOUR MEALS for two weeks and watch for the astonishing results it so often gives.

For years I was so unattractive that I almost cried when I looked at myself in the mirror. Oh, how I envied other girls, whose dance cards were always filled and who were always popular and sought after by boys, who would not look at me twice. Just two weeks ago I read an article in the paper which told of a slight change in the daily diet which often changed women who had been thin, pale and unattractive, in some cases even for years, so that they got back that magnetic charm of radiant health. This article stated that the most important element in building a strong, beautiful body full of grace and magnetism with sparkling eyes and rosy cheeks was a peculiar form of iron found in the husks of grain and the peels and skins of certain fruits and vegetables. But modern methods of cooking throw these important things away so that probably 19 people out of 20 lack 100% in their blood. I tried mixing a little of this peculiar form of iron with my meals

for two weeks. I feel and look years younger, with natural color in my lips and cheeks.

The above is a typical hypothetical case. It would seem that every woman whose attractiveness is impaired by lack of that magnetic charm that comes only with radiant health, would try adding a little of this newer form of iron to her daily food. It is comparatively inexpensive and may be obtained from your druggist under the name of Nuxated Iron,
which should be mixed with your food as directed on each package. Amazing results are often secured in only two weeks'
time. For sale by all druggists including

CITY SOLONS NOT TO BLOCK BROADWAY FUTURE OPENING

Extension of Broadway north from Santa Clara avenue today remains a possibility of the future,
following an adjourned meeting of the city council last night at which three members of the board were emphatic in their statements that they would not accept subdivision
maps that would block the opening of this thoroughfare.

The decision was made on tentative subdivision maps submitted by Mr. Nisson, who owns acreage north of Santa Clara avenue and east of what would be Broadway were that street extended, and the California Investment company, which holds options on property north of Santa Clara avenue and west of the natural line for extension of the street.

The California Investment company is ready to subdivide at once,
but Nisson is not. The company will revise its tentative map to establish a row of lots facing on Broadway and will be permitted to carry out its plan for extending a broad avenue northwest from the corner of Santa Clara avenue and Broadway to Santiago creek, an vest to a connection with Flower street, south of the creek. To carry out this program it will be necessary to procure from Nisson
a small piece of ground in the southwest corner of his property to effect a natural curve for the avenue.

Councilmen Emphatic.
J. G. Mitchell, John W. Tubbs
and H. H. Dale were the only council members present. The three men were pronounced in stating their belief that Broadway
some day would extend to Chapman avenue, Orange. They declared that this would be one of the results of inevitable subdivision of acreage north of Santiago creek.

With Special City Counsel Clyde
Bishop advising the council that it had no alternative but to proceed with passing to bonds property on which assessment had not been paid for installing a sewer system
on Spurgeon street north of Santa Clara avenue, the council denied a protest filed against property in the district going to bond. The installation was made under an assessment district.

A revision was made on the original assessment following a protest at the proper time by E. P.
Stafford. The protest against the bonds proposition followed.

Ordinances calling the charter
election for April 17 and the bond election for March 29 were given their first readings and were referred back to the attorneys. They will be adopted Monday evening.

Protest Overruled.
Protest against paying the west side of South Main street south of Edinger street was overruled because it was not a protest against the work but against the improvement being made until certain private agreements concerning the work had been executed. Adjustments that will be satisfactory will be made, it is understood.

Application of Max Baron for a permit to operate a junk shop near the Arcade rooming house, East Fourth street, was referred to the police commissioner.

Tentative plan of Will O'Brien
for extending South Broadway
south from Fairview avenue to a connection with the same street in Wilshire Square was approved. The street opens past the Stephen Ross property which the board of education has purchased as a site for the new junior high school.

A request from Lupe Montez for a permit to operate a dance hall on West Fourth street, west of Daisy street, was denied.

Ordinances establishing salaries of elective offices and providing regulation of billiard halls were read and referred back to the city attorney. The salaries will be fixed when the ordinance comes up for adoption Monday evening.

City Clerk E. L. Vegely was directed to have copies of the proposed city charter printed and City Attorney G. H. Scott was instructed to draft an ordinance calling the municipal election to be held April 9.

EXPLODES CLAIM AS TO PRINTER PROFIT

Declaring that prices for printing
under the Franklin Printing service are based on costs plus ten per cent, R. T. Porte, of Salt Lake, founder of the service, in an address to the Orange County Printers' association at St. Ann's Inn
here last night, refuted asserted propaganda of Los Angeles printing houses that the Franklin price list is based on 100 per cent profit.

Porte founded the service six years ago and already 9000 of the estimated 35,000 printing firms in the United States have adopted the service, he said. He recapitu-lated the development of the service, recounting that the figures were the result of compilation of costs of production in many different print shops of the country.

Sixty-seven men and women were present, including a number of visitors, among whom were Supervisors T. B. Talbert, William Schu-macher and George Jeffrey; F. W.
Slabach, county purchasing agent;
R. C. Metzger, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; F. L. Andrews, secretary of the board of education; Charles Chapman, city councilman; Fred Newcomb, president of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association; and D. K.
Hammond, principal of the Santa Ana high school. A number of the guests were accompanied by their wives.

BERLIN DOGS TO USE NAPKINS WITH MEALS IN EXPENSIVE HOTELS

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—Dogs residing in big Berlin hotels will wear napkins around their necks at meal times and will eat their food from tables covered with immaculate cloths and a full array of silverware specially set for them if their owners win out in their fight
against the latest price raising
movement of the hotel managers.

The war between the owners of pets and the hotels began this week when the hotels began charging 10 per cent tips on meals for each dog plus a fixed price of 5000
marks daily for "pension," which does not include anything except the right for a dog to remain in the hotel.

The owners of dogs, mostly of small varieties, when confronted with bills more than three times
as great as those of the week before, descended en masse on the hotel managers, who told them
that they had decided it was preferable not to keep dogs and so took measures to force the owners to dispose of them.

The guests, however, instead of selling the dogs or sending them
to kennels declared that since the dogs were obliged to give tips and pay for pension they were entitled to the same consideration as human residents at the hotel. They pointed out that the only service
the dogs received was to have a plate of rice set on the floor for them twice daily, while the price charged for this was equal to that of a meal eaten by a guest who ordered a la carte.

The owners at their indignation meeting said that under the present system the charge for one dog
with tips amounts to over 10,000
marks daily, while the waiters serving them are paid only 9000 marks weekly and make 8000 in the biggest hotels. In other words, the charge for two poodles for a week will pay the salary of the entire floor staff for the same period or the wages of a waiter for four months.

The angry guests further declared that in one of the hotels the wife of the owner, who is responsible for the order, still keeps four dogs the charges on which would pay the wages of thirty-five maids for a week.

RAILROAD VANISHES SAID TO HAVE BEEN STOLEN IN POLAND

PARIS, Feb. 21.—Someone has stolen an entire French railroad, it is believed. At any rate it has disappeared rails, bolts, sleepers and all, although it was more than a kilometer and a half long.

The road was one of the supplumentary lines laid down behind
the war front to furnish the troops with food and munitions near Amiens. From an inquiry which has been opened it is thought the Polish workers engaged in the reconstruction of the devastated areas stole the material and sold it either in the neighborhood or to their own government.

The line was so placed across two departments that neither was responsible for its disappearance.
The liberated regions decided to use the lines for transporting materials that its disappearance was discovered.

LEGION MEN REVIVE HORSE RACING AGAIN

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 21.—Horse racing,
the sport of kings,
will be revived in the Northwest
by members of the American Legion of South Dakota and Minnesota next summer.

At a recent meeting held at Flandreau, S. D., Legionnaires formed a circuit for the purpose of promoting horse-racing sports and entertainment for the people of a number of near-by towns. Representatives from Madison, Brookings
and Flandreau, South Dakota
towns, met with Minnesota veterans from Slayton and Pipestone and determined to put on three days of running races, a mile and a quarter derby, various free acts and minor sports.

The circuit will open in Flan-dreau, June 12. The week of June 19 will be at Slayton, June 26 will be at Brookings, July 3 at Pipe-stone and 10 at Madison. Several
owners win out in their fight
against the latest price raising
movement of the hotel managers.

grand opera is to be produced in New York next fall. Negro rhythm and harmony is to be perfected and commercialized by the Negro Grand Opera Co., Inc., which will produce an opera based on the wider mysticism and voodoo worship of the old southern plantation negroes. A company of 75 actors with a 40-piece orchestra will stage
the operas.

What Four Great Writers Say of the Bible

ITS WONDERFUL LITERARY AND MORAL VALUE

Macaulay Says: "If everything else in our language should perish, the Bible would alone suffice to show the whole extent of its beauty and power."
When Walter Scott Lay Dying, he said to his son-in-law:
"Lockhart, read me something from the Book." Lockhart asked, "What book?" Scott replied: "Why do you ask? There is but one Book—the Bible!" Coleridge Says: "Intense study of the Bible will keep any writer from being vulgar in point of style."

John Richard Green Says: "As a mere literary monument
the Bible remains the noblest language of the English tongue, while its perpetual use made it from the instant
of its appearance, the standard of our language."

PARISIAN FEMINIST SUES SONG WRITERS

PARIS, Feb. 21.—Montmartre
song writers are a little worried
over the result of a pending judicial inquiry into the rights of these song writers to use the names of well known persons in their parodies on Parisian life. The action is brought by Mme. Marie Verone, leader of the feminist movement
in France and one of the first women to be admitted to the French bar. Her articles and speeches in favor of woman suffrage had been drawn on extensively for unflattering parodies sung in Montmartre
"Boites de Nuit."

Should the court uphold Mme.
Verone's claim for 15,000 francs
damages scores of prominent Pa-risians are likely to bring action against the song writers, which probably would wipe out the profession here.

HALT INVASION AT LAGUNA OF DESTRUCTIVE WHITEFLY

Commissioner and Aides Wage Relentless Battle Against Florida Pest

CONFISCATE SHIPMENT

Flying Hordes, If Tolerated, Work Great Damage To Citrus

Horticultural Commissioner A. A. Brock today congratulated Grover C. Barr, one of his inspectors, upon his initiative in confiscating at Laguna Beach a quantity of wild olive plants shipped from New Orleans, and found to be badly infested with the destructive whitefly, against which California has waged a relentless quarantine and which has caused such great damage in the citrus groves of Florida.

The olive plants intercepted by Inspector Barr contained thousands of the eggs of the whitefly. There are three regular, well-defined broods of the whitefly, Brock said, with sometimes a partial fourth brood in winter. The first brood of adults generally emerges during March, the second during June, and the third during August and September.

"These pests," said Brock, "being able to fly, soon spread and multiply, leaving destruction in their wake."

"The life history of the whitefly consists, briefly, of egg, first stage larva, second stage larva, third stage larva, fourth stage larva, pupa, and adult or winged insect. All stages live on the under sides of the leaves and the adult swarm freely from dusk until after daylight."

Pest Since 1880
"The common whitefly has been the principal citrus pest in Florida and the gulf coast states since 1880."

"Its injury is due to the extraction of large quantities of sap from the leaves."
"Large quantities of the sooty mold, a black fungus that develops in the honeydew excreted by the insects, may so completely cover the leaves and fruit as to interfere with their growth."

Garden Week Plan Is Endorsed By President Harding

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—A national garden week campaign will be conducted by the General Federation of Women's clubs April 22 to 28.

President Harding has given the project his endorsement in a letter to Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the federation, as follows: "I am glad to assure you of my hearty endorsement of the program of the General Federation of Women's clubs for a national garden week this spring."

"The benefits both to individuals who take part and to the community as a whole are so obvious that they seem hardly to require enumeration."

FORMER PRESIDENT LEWIS RECOVERING FROM SEVERE COLD

Harry W. Lewis, well-known rancher, and former president of the Santa Ana Walnut Growers' association, today was able to leave his home on East Fourth street, following a mild attack of influenza. Lewis, who recently returned from Mexico, was unable to attend the fifth annual walnut growers' institute at Puente last Saturday.

While in Mexico, Lewis, who was accompanied by Mrs. Lewis, their son, Harry, and a group of friends and business associates, enjoyed excellent health. Returning to Santa Ana, however, he contracted a slight cold, which led to influenza. He has been confined to his home for the past week or ten days.

CITRUS INSTITUTE DRAWS BIG CROWD

Citrus growers and packing house executives from all sections of California attended the sessions of the California Citrus Institute held in connection with the national orange show at San Bernardino yesterday.

The chief subject of discussion was the old orchard problem, the speakers including: I. G. McBeth, manager Bastanchury ranch, Fullerton, "Irrigation," J. D. Culbertson, Limestone company, "Cultivation," J. S. Prizer, superintendent Bastanchury ranch, "Cultivation," and W. M. Mertz, Daid Hewes Realty corporation, "Cover Cropping."

UTT DESCRIBES SCHEDULE FOR GULF SECTION FRUIT CROPS

Tustin Expert Says He Foresees No Real Competitive Danger

BY C. E. UTT
(With California citrus growers in Florida.)

By previous arrangement our cars were to remain over Sunday in New Orleans—pronounced by the natives n'Awleens—so we were free to employ the day as we pleased. Some of our party went to church. Others engaged closed cars, and drove about the city. We had left Los Angeles in the worst day of this winter, cold, rainy and dismal—"Very unusual" weather.

From San Antonio, across Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida to Jacksonville and then back across the state to Tampa, on the gulf, we had the same wet, cloudy, cheerless weather and everywhere we were gravely assured that it was "very unusual."

So, when on that wintry Sunday morning, after we had run up the glass curtains, chinked up the crevices, drawn our overcoats and muffled about us and snuggled back to view the city, our driver, a cream-colored black man, remarked "This is v'y unusual weathah; yest'ady hit was that wahn y'u could go about in yo unda-clo." We believed him!

Smashes Delusion.
I want to smash one of our pet California delusions. We have been accustomed to think that the phrase "this is very unusual weather" belonged without question to California. We have assumed that we have it copyrighted. Nothing of the kind. If you wish to hear this song in many keys, just visit Florida, any time when it is wet, cold or windy. These Floridians far surpass us in their cocksure "Glorious climate."

"Wonderful productivity," "Astonishing growth," "Marvelous opportunities," stuff, Frank Wiggins should send his best talent down here to learn how to boost Los Angeles.

In New Orleans, the visiting tourist will be driven through the old Creole quarter, to the French market, through the best cemetery, out to Lake Pontchartrain and through the parks and principal business and residence sections.

His attention will be called to the house where General Beauregard lived, to the statues of Generals Lee, Beauregard, and Jackson, to the "Margaret" statue and, in Audubon park, to one of the famous naturalists.

Huge Population.

The city has a population of about three hundred and fifty thousand, and although one hundred miles up the river from the gulf, is a seaport. Indeed, she claims, and I think truly, to be the second port in America.

She has the first call on the trade of all countries washed by the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean sea. She is nearest to all South American countries and has an even chance at the trade of a large part of Europe, Asia and Africa.

California sells her much of her low grade oranges and lemons, for this market is known as a cheap market. When off the Louisiana and Florida fruit is off the market we sell a great many off grade valencias; and when the Italian lemons are scarce, several hundred cars annually of low grade lemons. (Just at present lemons from Cicely Verdell's of excellent quality), are being laid down, all charges, including a 2c per pound tariff, at three dollars and thirty cents per box. This is much below our cost of production and delivery.

The tariff absorbs fully one-half of the selling price of this shipment of lemons. In spite of this fact, many more lemons have been imported here during this January than in any previous January for years!

Tariff Not Effective.
Thus it will be seen that a tariff of two cents a pound while it produces a large revenue, does not shut out foreign competition, nor even much reduce it.

Perhaps it is well here to discuss briefly and dismiss the orange industry of Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama. We often hear vague reports of the large plantings and great future for the citrus industry in this gulf region. So far as I am able to determine, with the exception of grapefruit in southwestern Texas, these plantings are the kid glove variety, Satsumas, Tangarines and King oranges. These do not compete with our oranges, any more than do strawberries, grapes or any other fruit. These varieties are seasonal, and they do not keep.

This makes them more speculative and hazardous to the grower and dealer alike. This does not mean that some growers who pay special attention to their business will not make money, but that it will never become a large nor stable business such as orange growing in Florida and California has become.

While huddled around the radiators in the station waiting room, we were visited by a committee from Gulf Port, Miss. The committee consisted of the county farm division, the local editor and a gentleman who combined the offices of manager for the Satsuma Orange association with that of a railroad agent seeking new tonnage to take

Wiley Gives Out Tentative Plan for California Improvement

Glen Wiley, inspector for the state department of agriculture, with headquarters in Santa Ana, today made public the tentative grade schedule for California oranges, urged by many growers in this state and recognized by the state agricultural department. It was pointed out, however, that these gradings are not compulsory.

"If the fancy grades," said Wiley, "it is specified that the grade shall consist of oranges which are mature specimens of one variety, well-shaped, picked from the tree, of good color for the variety, of smooth texture, free from insect and fungus pests and diseases, and from coarse, puffed, scarred, sunburned, dirty, scaly, split, cut, bruised, or otherwise defective fruit, and shall exclude oranges showing freezing injury, or cutting dry, or which have excessively large or protruding navels."

Allows for Variation.
"In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, ten per cent by numerical count may be below requirement of this grade."

"Scars, limb rubs and similar surface blemishes shall be allowed not in excess of one-half inch in diameter in the aggregate; and thrips injury not in excess of one inch in diameter in the aggregate on fruit showing no other defects."

"The choice grades shall consist of mature oranges of one variety, fairly well shaped, picked from the tree, of fair color for the variety, of fair texture, practically free from insect and fungus pests and diseases, and from very coarse, badly puffed, badly scarred, badly sunburned, very dirty, very scaly, split, cut, badly bruised, or otherwise seriously defective fruit; and shall exclude oranges showing freezing injury or cutting dry."

"In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, ten per cent, by numerical count may be below the requirements of this grade."

"Scars and other surface blemishes shall be allowed not in excess of one inch in diameter in the aggregate; and thrips injury not in excess of two inches in diameter in the aggregate on fruit showing no other defects."

MEET AT DAVIS TO PLAN DAIRY SHOW

A meeting will be held tomorrow at the university farm, Davis, for the purpose of organizing an association that shall control the affairs of a Pacific coast dairy show.

The two dairy products and machinery shows that were put on by California Dairy council have convinced the members of the dairy industry of the need for a real dairy show if the industry west of the Rocky mountains is to grow and develop in keeping with the possibilities.

As it is not a proper function of a dairy council to conduct such a show, it becomes necessary to create a show organization.

There will be a large gathering of dairy cattle men at the farm during Stockmen's Week, and as the 22nd is a holiday, it is believed that it will not be difficult for other members of the industry to attend.

Important announcements will be made relative to the 1923 show.

FARM CENTER WILL DISCUSS BUDGETS

The agricultural budget for the next biennium will be the subject under discussion at a special meeting of the Fullerton farm center to be held Friday, February 23, at 7:30 p. m. at the annex of the Presbyterian church.

This meeting promises to be one of special interest. The farm bureau members of the northern part of the county are particularly interested in the status of agricultural legislation, particularly with reference to the protection of agricultural industries of the state through the quarantine service and other related departments.

During the legislative recess the legislative committee of the Orange county farm bureau expects to call a conference with both Senator Eden and Dr. Ball to discuss agricultural bills that are now before the Sacramento body. Several farm centers are contemplating legislative programs during the month.

VISITORS LAUD ORANGE COUNTY EXHIBIT AT CITRUS CARNIVAL

Saturday was Orange county day at the Thirteenth National Orange show at San Bernardino and chief among the topics of discussion was the exceptionally beautiful exhibit entered by this county. Thousands lauded the exhibit.

MANY GROWERS PROFIT FROM INSTITUTE

The prevalence of mold on the walnut kernels has been one of the important causes of the reduction in grade of nuts and thus the loss of money to the walnut growers of California. Dr. L. D. Batchelor, University of California experiment station, told 500 walnut growers and packing house executives who attended the fifth annual walnut growers institute at Puente.

Many Orange county representatives, including H. E. Wahlberg, county farm advisor, attended the sessions and heard stirring addresses by Batchelor, R. W. Hodgson, Carlyle Thorpe, A. W. Christie and others. Many profitable pointers were given growers.

A brief summary of Batchelor's address includes the following subjects:

1. Use sufficient water to keep normal foliage during the growing season, so as to allow the nuts to drop clean.

Gives Husking Advice.
2. If a large number of black stick-tights develop on the trees, pole them in the early part of the harvest, and don't mix with the other nuts. They should be husked immediately. They are already partially cured and should not be put in with normal nuts.

3. If a portion of the trees show tendency toward green stick-tights, pole them the first time over. Don't allow them to remain on the tree, for if left on the tree on the ground the husks develop a damp, mushy surrounding, which causes molding and darkening of the meats. If taken care of early enough they may come in the Diamond brand.

4. It will take extra labor to handle the nuts promptly and to husk properly, but the average differential of $7 to $15 per 100 pounds will more than pay for the extra labor required. Always keep the stick-tights separate from other grades, as mixing will tend to lower the total.

The codling moth situation was handled by R. W. Hodgson, who pointed out that this pest was on the increase in all sections, except Orange county.

More concerted action in control measures was recommended, and a closer study of the proper time for applying dust or spray was urged.

The formula recommended for a combination control of aphid and codling moth is 200 gallons water, 8 pounds basic arsenate of lead, 3-4 pint black leaf 40.

Thorpe is Speaker.
Carlyle Thorpe, general manager of the California Walnut Growers' association, gave an illustrated lecture on his trip through the Orient and the continent for the purpose of studying foreign production of walnuts. He pointed out that in no country was walnut cul-

Thousands Attracted by Octagonal Feature Praise Beauty of Entry

This beautiful exhibit, made possible by an appropriation of $1000 by the Orange county board of supervisors and designed by Charles I. Farber, was the magnet which attracted all eyes at the great citrus carnival at San Bernardino.

Orange county's entry, which was awarded third prize by the judges of the big enterprise, is an octagonal feature with a huge orange in the center of a golden dial. Under the canopy two manikins are seen slowly revolving as they turn the huge press which produces an unceasing flow of orange juice.

Murray Horne, who had the task of securing choice fruit for the exhibit, is in charge of this county's display. Two beautiful girls distribute Orange county literature to the thousands who flock into the big tents in the Gate City.

SHOWS BENEFIT OF BUTTERFAT TESTS HERE

"There are about 5000 dairy cows in Orange county," said W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor, here, today, "but only about 800 are tested for butterfat production from month to month."

"One of the most active units of the Orange county farm bureau is the dairy department. This department was organized for the purpose of helping the dairy industry through organized effort."

Realizing the value of ascertaining the relative merits of their cows in the economical production of dairy products, cowtesting has been one of the big projects.

"The average butterfat production for the state is 182 pounds. If this were increased to 265 pounds per year, it would mean an increased income to the state of twenty-four millions annually."

"February is the last month of the cowtesting year and March will witness the beginning of a new year. The dairy department is looking forward to a bigger and better year. It is hoped more members will take advantage of the department."

At a recent election H. L. Wakeham, F. D. Plavan, A. H. Moore, Steve Griset, Ray McClintock and E. G. Stirnman were placed on the board of directors for the ensuing year. F. G. Stinson was elected to replace H. L. Wakeham, the retiring chairman.

Care of the Eyes

BY DR. ROY S. HORTON
OP-TOM-ETRIST

Woman Arrested

A woman was recently arrested in a middle west city because, with her three children and another passenger in the car she was driving it recklessly, zigzagging and otherwise menacing the public. At the hearing it developed that she had extremely deficient vision—could not even discern telephone, electric railway and other poles along the street until almost upon them, and she could not distinguish one colored light from the other at a railroad crossing. Yet she was driving an automobile on the public streets, endangering the lives of her babies, not to mention her own, that of the other passenger and pedestrians. She was discharged and admonished to have her eyes attended to. But, had she gone down the street firing a gun in the air, with only perhaps one chance in a hundred, or a thousand, of hitting anyone—nevertheless she would have been fined and perhaps imprisoned! And where was the less danger in the auto? In fact accounts have appeared in newspapers showing that some courts have declared automobiles "deadly weapons."

Where's the fault?
An automobile is a machine—it goes only where directed; the eye, which acts as guide for the hand at the steering wheel, is responsible for the vehicle's movements. And who is responsible for the eye? Taking the experience of the woman above cited and granting that she did not realize the vital danger of her defective vision, who was to blame? Under protection of the license granted her she had the legal authority to go on the streets and jeopardize lives as she sat at the steering wheel. Fortunately, she did not kill anyone—because she was stopped! What if she had gone on, and whose fault was it? Had she been compelled to produce a certificate showing that her eyes had been examined and glasses had been fitted, assuring perfect vision, it would have followed that the police would not have been compelled to step in. It was the merest luck that she did not kill anyone.

How to Be Free of Cold All Winter

A Timely Warning!

Every one knows that even the slightest cold, if not taken in time or neglected, often develops into a serious ailment.

Don't neglect them, they are dangerous. At the first sign of a chill, or sneezing, start taking Hyland's 14—a mild, safe remedy that is different from other cold remedies. It does not contain any drug that is habit-forming or depresses the heart. It gives results at once, yet is perfectly safe for children, as it contains no quinine, no aspirin, no acetanilid.

Carry a package in your pocket or handbag to keep yourself in good condition. Hyland's 14 is on sale at all druggists, C. S. Kelley Drug Store, corner 4th and Main streets—Adv.

Baker's Cocoa

is the ideal drink for growing children

Not only does its delicious flavor and aroma appeal to the palate but it supplies the body with a considerable amount of pure, wholesome and nutritious food.

Children, owing to their almost ceaseless activity, frequently require as large an amount of nourishment as adults, and good cocoa is a valuable aid in the carefully arranged diet. But its quality must be good and no cocoa can give so well the requirements of dietitian, physician, nurse or housekeeper as “BAKER'S.”

UTT DESCRIBES GULF SECTION CONDITIONS

Their mission was to induce us to stop at their wonderful part of our common country, bristling with opportunities.

We were of course sorry to refuse this gracious request but our itinerary would not permit. They told us the dark, as well as the bright side, of their country. The lumber industry will soon be gone forever and as that has been their chief source of prosperity, they are struggling hard to introduce fruit growing and trucking. Cut over pine lands can be bought at from five to forty dollars per acre.

It costs from ten to forty dollars per acre to clear this land and after it is cleared it is only fit for fruit growing or trucking.

Cannot Compete.

It cannot compete in ordinary farming with the more fertile soils of other sections. Satsuma oranges are budded on trifoliate and are said to withstand a temperature of as low as fourteen degrees. There were about three or four hundred cars shipped from this and the Mobile section the past season. They estimate nearly double that for the coming year.

Some very large returns have been received from this fruit—over one thousand dollars per acre. Thus it will be seen that to date it is a growing and profitable industry. The fruit is off early, October and November, so there is no danger of crop loss from that source.

It must not be forgotten that periodically, as in 1895, there sweep down great cold waves from the north which might kill even their hardy trees. I, therefore, conclude that citrus growing in the Gulf region will never seriously disturb the California grower.

Since writing the foregoing I have met one of the best posted men on citrus production and marketing in the country.

He says that he has seen Satsuma groves wiped out of existence near Galveston by cold and thinks that all the Gulf region, from the Rio Grande to Florida, liable to be visited by a cold wave so severe as to destroy the trees.

We have now been a week in the heart of the citrus growing region of Florida.

It has been a most surprisingly delightful time.

fers with the proper physiological activity of the trees.

“Badly infested trees get out of condition and produce small crops of insipid fruit.

“Fruit covered with sooty mold will also be retarded in ripening and belated in coloring, especially the upper part, which may remain green, when the rest of it has assumed the color of ripe fruit.

Secondary Injury

“A secondary injury to the trees may result from an excessive increase of the common species of citrus, which may find protection under the sooty mold that covers leaves and branches.

“Like the order of insects to which they belong, whiteflies have sucking beaks in all stages, by means of which they penetrate the leaves of their host plants and extract large quantities of sap for food.”

FINE CONCERT PROGRAM FOR KEARN, PLAN

Tomorrow evening, KFAW, The Register radioophone will present a concert program of the highest character, under the auspices of the Sherwood School of Music, 403½ West Fourth street. The tentative program announced to-day will include numbers by six local artists of note, as follows:

Mrs. Thomas Willits Jr., soprano, “O, Promise Me,” by DeKo-

CHAMBER BUILDING AT LAGUNA WOULD HOUSE THEATER AND LIBRARY

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 21.—In an interview Friday, F. W. Cuprien, chairman of the building committee of the Laguna Beach Community club, said that, at a meeting of the committee, held February 14 at Joe Skidmore's office, several plans for the new club house were presented and discussed and it was decided to have a new plan drawn, embodying the most desirable features of each, which will be submitted to the Laguna Beach contractors for bids.

William A. Griffith and George Gillette were appointed to draw up the final plans and specifications. When completed the community club house will contain besides a large club room; a large room to house the library and a room wherein the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations can hold meetings without disturbing the activities of either the Community club, Players or library.

When the plans are finished a sketch will be made of them and put on display at the Laguna Beach Pharmacy. The members of the building committee are: F. W. Cuprien, chairman; Joe Skidmore, Mr. Rankin, Mr. Powers and William A. Griffith.

CERTIFICATION FEES NOT FOR WOUNDED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 21.—Joe Sparks, chairman of the American Legion's national rehabilitation committee, has urged all disabled veterans of the World War claiming compensation to have their claims certified and their affidavits sworn to before officials of the United States Veterans' Bureau without charge.

Members of the Sixth District Rehabilitation Committee of the Legion at their recent conference in New Orleans stated that hundreds of ex-service men are now paying notary fees when they are in no financial position to do so, because they are not aware that the papers relating to their claims will be certified by the Bureau free of cost.

LEAVES ON SECRET MISSION TO CHINA

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—Louis F. Swift, president of Swift and company, meat packers, is en route to China today aboard the K. K. K. Liner Shinyo Maru which cleared yesterday for Yokohama and other Oriental ports.

Importance is lent his trip because of the persistent rumors that he is going to China to close a gigantic deal with Chang Tso Lin, Manchurian military leader. Swift would neither deny nor affirm this report before leaving yesterday.

ture a primary industry. Walnuts were generally grown in hedge-row form and miscellaneous plantings. The cost of production in the foreign countries was very low.

A. W. Christie of the college of agriculture spoke on dehydration in relation to walnut curing.

Resolutions were passed by the growers urging that the work of the citrus experiment station on moldy walnuts be continued, and also that variety tests be established by the college of agriculture for the testing out of new varieties of nuts that might be adapted to the various sections of the state.

HERE'S CHANCE FOR YOU TO GET BIBLE

It was said recently that “nothing is so much needed today in the rehabilitation of the broken world as a faith that still holds toward a higher, divine goal, than mere social and economic and political adjustment—than things that are purely physical and temporal.” Down through the centuries, through wars and the aftermaths of wars, the Bible is the link that has held men and nations to the “faith in the higher and divine goal.”

Perhaps no edition of the Bible has ever attained such widespread popularity as has the Big Print Red Letter Edition now being offered to readers of this paper. It is of so convenient a size that it is not bulky, still the type is so clear that old people, or those having defective sight, can easily read it. The outstanding red letters of the words of Christ make it very simple to find His thoughts without reference to indexes and concordances.

This paper is able to offer this edition in two distinct styles, with but three daily coupons and a nominal distribution fee. Distribution starts on the third day, but attention is called to the fact that the supply is limited. See coupon in another column.

BOXERS TO APPEAR ON LEGION PROGRAM

CITY MANAGER PLAN NOT UNDEMOCRATIC

One objection to the City Manager plan of city government that is offered is that it effects a centralization of power—that it is undemocratic.

With an abundance of testimony on this point from the highest possible authority, it would be useless for The Register to raise its comparatively feeble voice in defense of the democracy of the form of government provided for by the proposed City Charter.

James Bryce says, in his new book, "Modern Democracies," regarding the City Manager plan: "It is the latest word in municipal reform."

Woodrow Wilson says: "I regard the commission-managers' (council city manager) 'plan of municipal government as a marked advance over any plan hitherto tried in this country, from the standpoint of both EFFICIENCY and DEMOCRACY.'"

W. G. Lee, national president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, says:

"I see nothing undemocratic in having a city manager selected by the commissioners' (council). 'A city manager doesn't rule anybody. He doesn't pass any laws. He doesn't determine any public policies.'"

And that great apostle of democracy (and Democracy), William Jennings Bryan says: "I am pleased with the city-manager plan we have in Miami."

ROYAL BABY TENDING

By his mother's own order the little son of Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles is not to be carried in arms during his infancy but is to rest peacefully in his little "Moses" cradle, being handled only as his actual needs require.

In making this decision the Princess is following the best modern authorities on the care of infants. Her baby is to be envied. He could have any amount of attention so far as means goes. He could be rocked, walked with, dandled, jogged till his brain addled, and exhibited without limit. Instead he is to be let alone, given a chance to build up a straight body, sound nerves and good digestion.

Many mothers follow this course with their infants. Unfortunately many do not. Very often the ones who carry their babies around and make of rearing them the most exacting labor are the very women who most need their time and strength for something else, not to mention the harm they do the helpless infants.

Royalty may be less revered than formerly, but there is still a general tendency to follow the actions of those in high places. The English princess in stipulating that her baby shall not be handled unnecessarily will do much to popularize this mode of child culture and no fashion she can set will be more valuable.

Doctors have rounded up the flu germ, but the war germ is still at large.

THE NEW TROWEL

Bricklaying is one of the oldest of the building arts. Men seem to have been laying bricks 10,000 years ago. Anyone would suppose there was little to be learned about putting one brick on top of another, with the necessary mortar between. Yet an Indianapolis man claims to have invented a trowel that enables a bricklayer to lay twice as many bricks in a day, and shows moving pictures to prove it. The National Brick Manufacturers' association is much interested.

That trowel may be all that the inventor claims for it, and yet not revolutionize the ancient art immediately. The bricklayers themselves may have something to say about it. All our industrial civilization shows that man himself does not evolve as rapidly as his tools. And that is true of other classes besides workmen.

LINCOLN'S GRANDMOTHER

After nearly everything worth knowing about the history of Abraham Lincoln was supposed to have been known, something new has been discovered. An Illinois enthusiast, delving into Kentucky's records, has found Lincoln's "lost grandmother". His father's mother, it appears from old tax receipts at Frankfort, was Bathsheba Herring.

The naming down of that particular fact may or may not be important. It depends a good deal on what may be known about the lady in question, and that doesn't appear to be much. The most obvious fact is that she was a tax-payer, and so doubtless a worthy member of the community. Generally speaking, "the rest is silence."

It might be assumed that Lincoln derived one-fourth of his traits from that grandmother. If so, surely the grandmother of such a great figure is worth studying. Scientific students of heredity, however, say that a man usually derives his most prominent traits through his mother, from his maternal grandfather.

In judging personal characteristics, this tracing of heredity seldom brings very satisfactory results. Always there is, in the man or woman of conspicuous achievement, some big element that is unique and unexplainable.

SUPREME COURT MAJORITIES

There is a good deal of public support of Senator Borah's proposal that no law shall be declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court unless seven judges concur.

It is well known that in recent years several decisions in vital matters, some of them involving humanitarian legislation, have been vetoed by a mere majority of five judges to four. In certain instances it has been four to three, in the absence of judges whose presence might have changed the result:

Any such decision, as matters stand, is perfectly legal; but it is not convincing, and it gives radicals an opportunity for denouncing the court.

The United States seems to be the only important country that gives courts the power to annul legislative acts. On the whole, the plan has worked admirably. The Supreme Court, after nearly a century and a half of trial, is held in high esteem and considered a guarantor of American liberty rather than a menace to liberty. It must be recognized, however, that the particular practice referred to is growing unpopular, and any increase in the proportion of judges required for a veto decision would tend to strengthen the authority of the tribunal.

The seven-to-two requirement may not be necessary, but surely six-to-three would be better than the present standard which makes a mere plurality as decisive as unanimous agreement. The practice seems especially illogical when compared with the jury system, which requires agreement of 12 jurors. There is no obvious reason for this difference.

If Henry Ford really wants to be the next President, he would do well to start his campaign by putting on shock absorbers and modern carburetors.

Seeking An Answer

Riverside Press.

There was one piece of information that the people of Riverside and San Bernardino counties were very anxious to secure from the members of the state highway commission at the conference Friday but no light was thrown on the question. Reference is made to the use of funds definitely allocated by the last bond issue to the Mecca-Blythe and Barstow-Needles roads. Riverside county claims that the $300,000 voted for the Mecca-Blythe road should be spent on that highway; and experts agree that judicious use of that sum will put the road in very fair condition for through travel.

The members of the commission talked about selecting some one road from Arizona into California for paving; and the Mecca-Blythe road, the Old Trails road by Needles and the Holtville-Yuma roads were referred to. What would like to know is whether it is the intention to assemble all the funds voted for improvements on these three roads and spend them on one or whether it is proposed to carry out the spirit and letter of the bond issue and spend on each project the money assigned to it.

In other words Riverside does not enthuse over the possibility that the $300,000 assigned to the Mecca-Blythe road be used, for instance, in the sand hills east of Holtville.

The conference was an interesting one, but it brought out no declaration of policy on the part of the highway commission; the only hint given along that line came from Chairman Toy and that was certainly disquieting. He talked of improving one of the three roads and said nothing about the dispositions of the money voted for the other two in the event that the paving is limited to one.

Riverside does not ask that the $300,000 for the Mecca-Blythe road be used for paving; that is not feasible; but wise distribution of the money would provide a new route from the Coachella valley up onto the mesa and fix in pretty good shape the worst spots in the highway. That is a practical program and should be carried out.

Some History Recalled

Riverside Press.

Reports that the Santa Fe may build down through the Temecula canyon from Corona to Alhambra, recall an interesting bit of history. In the early nineties an independent company was incorporated to build a railroad from Pomona to Elsinore known as the Pomona and Elsinore Railroad company. Richard Gird of Chino was interested in the project; and not only was the line surveyed for the entire distance but it was partly graded. No doubt remnants of the old grade could still be found through what was then the great Chino ranch.

The company was not adequately financed and other boom enterprises. Not a single rail was laid along the graded track and the rights of way were soon lost. The line of the old survey from Corona through the canyon will be pretty closely followed by the Santa Fe, it is understood.

This Pomona and Elsinore road was contemporary with the days when the Santa Fe line through the Temecula canyon to San Diego was in operation; and if the company builds this connection to Elsinore, it may be that this will pave the way to the rebuilding of the Temecula line. That would give Los Angeles a direct route to San Diego by way of Corona and it would give Riverside a shorter line to that city.

Here is hoping that both propositions are carried out.

Reforming the Criminal Law

San Francisco Journal.

The Community Development Association of Los Angeles is sponsoring an appeal for the reform of the criminal laws of this state. Its program has the endorsement of the Los Angeles Bar Association and efforts are being made to enlist the cooperation of the rest of the state in the movement. This is to be accomplished by a program consisting of two constitutional amendments and eight or more amendments to the present laws to be adopted by the legislature if the program meets with approval. The constitutional amendments require to be passed by a two-thirds vote in both houses of the legislature to be proposed to the people. They then go automatically on the ballot at the next general election. The people will then have a chance to say whether they want the reforms indicated to be a part of the law of the land.

The first of these constitutional amendments provides that three-fourths of a jury in a criminal case may return a verdict in all cases except where the death penalty might be imposed. The second of the amendments provides that judges shall have the right to comment upon the evidence and advise the jury on questions of fact as well as on questions of law. This is done in the federal courts and in all the courts of England. Had the first of these amendments been in force during 1922 it would have saved the people of California at least $100,000 in the cost of retrials in the case of hung juries. In half of these mistrials three-fourths of the juries stood for acquittal and in the other half they stood for conviction. This indicates that no injustice would be worked to either prosecution or the defense by the adoption of the measure. It simply provides that nine jurors may return a verdict instead of twelve.

Most of the bills advocated provide more severe penalties for crimes of violence, and another creates three degrees of the crime of burglary, depending upon whether or not the burglar is armed with a deadly weapon, and whether the building entered is used as a dwelling. Not all of the measures are in the direction of increased severity. There is one that raises the limit of the amount of money stolen to constitute grand larceny from $50 to $200. Grand larceny is a felony punishable by sentence to state penitentiary; petit larceny is only a misdemeanor, or punishable by a jail sentence. The latter punishment is deemed to be sufficient for cases involving less than $200. The whole program is a sweeping over the state, and it aims to make the criminal law more effective than at present.

OFF!

Matches and Smoking
Called Twin Hazards

Sacramento Bee

Matches and smoking are held responsible for fire losses of nearly $26,000,000 in this country during 1921, the latest year for which figures have been compiled by the national board of fire underwriters.

This is a record total for what the insurance men call the "twin hazard," and an increase of about $9,000,000 over losses due to the same causes in 1918.

The board asks whether the large increase is not chiefly attributable to spread of smoking among women, thus intimating its own belief in the matter.

The total fire loss in 1921 was $495,000,000, or about $4.50 per capita, should tend to make all classes more careful in the use of matches and in other ways. And of this huge destruction insurers say the larger part was preventable.

Next to "matches and smoking," the six other chief causes of fire in 1921 were as follows, in the order named:

Spontaneous combustion, $20,000,000; defective chimneys and flues, $15,000,000; stoves, furnaces, boilers and their pipe lines, $14,000,000; electricity, $13,000,000; lightning, $12,000,000; sparks on roofs, $11,000,000.

The interesting fact is noted that all these totals represent increases, save in the case of electricity. Although its use has grown very greatly, there was in three years a decrease of $8,000,000 in losses from this cause, attributed to a campaign of education by electrical companies.

As to lightning, very rare in this state, California no doubt could make a very favorable statistical comparison. On the other hand, with respect to fires from "sparks on roofs," our long, dry summers may make the hazard and consequent losses proportionately greater than in most other parts of the country.

Worth While Verse

THE PLAYMATE

Yesterday's so far away,
Tomorrow is so near,
Today is part of Yesterday
Before I know it's here.

If only sometime I could shut
Tomorrow in a tower
I'd make a playmate of Today
And dress her like a flower.

I'd twist a garland rosy-red
And put it on her head,
I'd romp with her and laugh
With her
Till all our words were said.

Tomorrow is so near,
Yesterday's so far away,
And, oh, Today has gone to stay
Before I know it's here!

EFFECTIVE APPROACH.

Illustrating effective approach in salesmanship, G. W. Hopkins, head of the sales force of a certain phonograph company, told this one:

A woman with a perfectly good husband, as husbands go, was distressed over the fact that he seemed utterly incapable of getting up early and building the fire. One morning she hit upon a plan. She leaped wildly from bed, yelling:

"Fire! Fire!"

The husband was on the floor in a second, only five o'clock though it was.

He looked about, then rushed to the window and looked at the barn.

"Fire, where?" he cried.

"Downstairs," she yelled back. "Build it!"

TOO HEAVY FOR HIM.

An extraordinary fat woman, laden with parcels and packages, and bearing upon her countenance the look of one who is used to speaking her mind, was trying to mount the steps of a London motor bus.

Helplessly looking on stood the conductor, a diminutive bantam of a person.

The large female, having reached the second step, with a glance of withering scorn, said: "If yer was 'arf a man, yer'd 'elp me up." The uniformed miniature calmly replied: "If ye were 'arf a woman I would."—London Answers.

STOP that TAX LEAK

Know Your Rights and Save Money

By Ewell D. Moore

ARTICLE XIII

FORMS OF DOING BUSINESS

The form of business organization adopted is often important from the standpoint of taxability. No fixed rule for ascertaining the relative advantages of a corporation over a partnership, or vice versa, both having similar net incomes, can be stated. Many other things than taxes are to be considered in selecting a form of business organization.

The law is designed to equalize taxes. It was never contemplated that by changing its form of organization a business would be able to reduce its taxes materially. Nevertheless, a business may find itself in a situation where a change in form of organization will minimize its taxes.

The excess profits tax, which fortunately ceased to exist on December 31, 1921, imposed intolerable tax burdens on many corporations, particularly those closely held and having a small capitalization and large earnings. Many such concerns found that a change to a partnership form of business operated to reduce federal taxes.

Organization Forms

To a group of individuals about to associate themselves in a business undertaking the factor of federal taxes is often to greater importance than other considerations. The common forms of organization, with their relative taxability are:

Partnership—No income tax on the partnership, as such. Each partner is taxed upon his share of the profits, whether they are retained in the business or distributed.

Corporation—Taxed as an entity on its net income at 12 1/2 per cent; also pays a special excise tax of $1 each $1000 of the fair average of its capital stock, in excess of $5000. The profits of a corporation, when distributed in cash, are taxed in the hands of the shareholders under the surtaxes. No tax on stock dividends.

Common Law Trust

This form of organization is coming more and more into use. It is often referred to as the "Massachusetts Trust." The tax status of such an organization is made the subject of a decision by the United States Supreme court. It was there held that a Massachusetts trust cannot be classed as an association for tax purposes (an association being taxed the same as a corporation under the law.) Whether such an organization is a trust or an association may be decided by this test: "Do the beneficiaries have a voice in the conduct of the business? If they have substantial control, the entity is taxable as a corporation; if they do not, it is taxable as a trust."

Comparison Made

Suppose a corporation, with $500,000 capital, owned by four individuals, makes a profit of $200,000 in 1922, all of which is retained in the business for expanding the company's operations. As a corporation it would pay federal taxes of 12 1/2 per cent on $200,000, or $25,000, and a capital stock tax of about $700. Total taxes, exclusive of state and local taxes, $25,700. The stockholders would pay no income tax, since they received no dividends. Take the same business, operated as a partnership, with the same profits, all of which are retained in the business. Each of the four partners would pay taxes on $50,000 (although the profits were not distributed to them), totalling $34,560. In this case the corporation has the advantage.

But suppose the profits of the corporation, after paying the $25,700 taxes, are distributed in dividends to the four owners; each would pay surtaxes on his $45,575 dividends, amounting to $3,618.55, or a total of $14,474.20 tax on the profits after distribution. This added to the corporation tax of $27,500 would make a tax of $40,174.20 on the profits of the business conducted as a corporation, as against $34,560 as a partnership.

Adventures of the Twins

The $5 and $10 Store

By Olive Roberts Barton

Bye-and-Bye The Twins came to curious a city in Mix-Up Land, and a queer city it was!

The houses were in the middle of the street while the side-walks and car-tracks were where the houses should have been.

No two houses were alike, some being round, some square, some shaped like acorns, and some like dunce caps. Some were made of glass with wooden windows, and others had chimneys in the cellar.

"Jack Straw certainly mixed this place up when he turned his magic ring," said Nick. "If Even-Steven ever gets to be king again and the country put to rights, nobody will know where to find anything."

"You are right, young man, quite right," said a voice, and the Twins beheld a man standing in a doorway. Over his head was a sign which said, "Five and Ten Dollar Store. Nothing Under."

"Mix me! Mix is mild. He completely confuted me the day he turned the land topsy-turvy. Would you like to come inside and just see what has happened?"

"Oh yes, thank you," said Nick, quickly accepting the man's invitation, for like all little boys he was

So in they went.

"Oh, my!" cried Nancy the minute she got inside. "Just look at those dolls! They are all turned around. They've got arms instead of legs and legs instead of arms and their faces are looking back-wards!"

"And look at the drums!" said Nick. "They've got sleeves for tops."

But more sights met their eyes, all the work of Jack Straw and his dreadful ring.

The heads of the teddy bears were on the monkeys and the tails of the monkeys were on the teddy bears. The keys on the toy pianos were turned to door-keys and the rockers off the doll cradles had jumped onto the tea-spoons which spilled everything right on "the table."

"Even the Mix-Uppers won't buy anything from me," said the Five and Ten Dollar Store Man sadly. "I wish Even-Steven would get to be king again and put things to rights."
